2,000 U.S. Heavy Bombers in Day Attack on Berlin

War's Greatest Daylight Raid Sees 3,000 Tons of Bombs Dropped on Smashed City

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP).—In the greatest daylight aerial raid against a city, nearly 2,000 United States heavy bombers and fighters dropped 3,000 tons of explosives on refugee-choked Berlin, aiming primarily for three down-town railway stations.

More than 1,250 bombers escorted by 700 fighters streamed in a straight line, which German air raid warnings said stretched for 150 miles, across Northern Germany and made a bee-line for the capital whose population has perhaps been swollen to 3,000,000 by refugees from the battlefronts.

The planes arrived over the city in three waves just before noon and dropped 3,000 high-explosive bombs and 500,000 small fire bombs on the Schlesischer, Alexander Platz and Berlin North railway stations, all within two miles of the heart of the capital.

The bombs began dropping at 11:94 a.m. the "zero-hour" set in the briefing, and continued in salvos of 100-ton lots at 15-minute intervals.

Although the big bombers offered an inviting target to the Luftwaffe with their bold tactics there were no reports of enemy air interception.

An Air Force staff officer said: "Berlin now has won our most-bombed championship."

The Air Air Force, he said, "that dropped approximately 18,000 tons of bombs on Berlin in all attacks, passing the 15,000-ton mark for Cologne and 12,000-ton allotment for Munich."

In addition 16,000 tons of bombs have been dumped on the German capital by the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. in night attacks since the start of the war.

The British Information Services in New York said the greatest tonnage of explosives recorded as dropped by the R.A.F. on one raid

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1945, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, Feb. 26 — The new offensive on the Western Front by troops under Field Marshal Montgomery and General Hodges, says The Times, in a review of the military situation, has begun well.

An air offensive on an unprecedented scale has exercised a powerful effect on the operations and will continue to do so, as targets have ranged from Berlin itself to small towns in the west, where the allies have occupied one part and the Germans the other.

Whether such a comprehensive air assault will prove decisive remains to be seen. Since the defeat of the Germans in the Ardennes and of secondary attacks in Alsace-Lorraine, the allies have not been idle. Operations of the Canadian First Army between the Rhine and Maas carried out in bad weather and waterlogged ground, have succeeded in penetrating the northern extension of the Siegfried Line. They have also attracted to this front about ten German divisions.

Twelve thousand prisoners have been taken in these relatively limited operations. Flooding of the Roer area by smashing of river dams caused a lodging. But the rivers are nearly to their normal Winter level again.

However, German defences further back have been strengthened in the meantime and, although the Ninth Panzer Army has quite east to face the Red Army, and other divisions also have been withdrawn, the Allied task is formidable enough. There is little doubt, adds The Times, the enemy was prepared thoroughly for the onslaught.

Berlin communiqués, according to The Times Stockholm correspondent, consider the Allied offensive in the almost tremendous thing since the invasion of Normandy. They agree that unless German troops manage to hold the West Wall, motorized war will roll over Germany just as it did over France after the Ardennes breach. Germans also describe the active front at 150 miles long with the potential breach between Linnich and Duren.

With Turkey as an ally, says The Times Istanbul correspondent, Ar-

The Water Rats Move Forward

Slogging their way through the Nazi-flooded countryside in their latest drive through Germany, Canadians have been nicknamed "The Water Rats." Hars a sturdy truck rolls forward through the swirling waters. In flooding the country, the Germans thought they could stem the British Canadian advance . . . they failed.

Within 23 Miles of Stettin Port

Nazis Report Flare-Up In Berlin Fighting

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP).—German broadcasts said tonight that heavy fighting had erupted on a 100-mile front facing Berlin and Dresden, and declared that other Soviet forces in the north had driven within 23 miles of Stettin, Pomeranian capital and a Baltic port at the mouth of the Oder River.

A brief Soviet communique, announcing capture of five localities in Red Prussia during alone all-night gain, and the seizure of 19 more blocks in besieged Breslau, did not mention any fighting on the main front inside Germany. Dispatches from the Soviet capital, however, told of heavy reconnaissance and other usual activities preceding a mass offensive.

Nor was any mension made by Moscow of the 200-mile northern Soviet flank front stretching from the Lower Oder to the Vistula River in Poland, but Berlin said Red Army troops attacking along the middle of this line had reached to within 11 miles of Neustetin at a point only 93 miles from the Baltic coast. At the eastern end of the line the Russians were reported only 30 miles south of Danzig.

German reserves were being hurried into Middle Pomerania in an effort to keep the Russians from splitting themselves in two and separating off thousands of Germans in the Danzig-Gdynia area.

The Nazi High Command officially announced that German troops attacking on Samland Peninsula, west of besieged Koenigsberg in East Prussian capital, had opened rail, water and road connections between Koenigsberg and Pillau, export port 30 miles to the west.

Berlin said that hard fighting had

Condition Unchanged

LONDON, Feb. 26 (CP).—The condition of Earl Lloyd George was described by physicians tonight as unchanged.

At his home in North Wales, doctors said the 82-year-old statesman was very weak and sleeping a great deal.

RELIEF SUPPLIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (CP).—The United States Army Administration vote tonight to make "limited emergency relief supplies" available to the most devastated districts of France, Belgium, Luxembourg, The Netherlands and Norway. There has been criticism here and abroad of failure to supply more relief to the liberated nations.

Strife in Romania May Bring Big-Three Action

LONDON, Feb. 26 (Reuters).—The conflict between the Rumanian Prime Minister, Gen. Radescu, and the National Democratic Front has entered a new stage. It is believed in London tonight that the Inter-Allied Control Commission in Bucharest, representing British, United States and Russian representatives, has considered the source of conflict and has made recommendations which for the moment will confirm Gen. Radescu in his office or will lead to a government of similar political composition.

Whether this will lead to a calming of the atmosphere in Romania is questionable, and in London it is believed that ultimately the only permanent solution will be a government based on democratic elections.

In the meantime Gen Radescu has launched a strong attack on the Communist leaders and on the National Democratic Front, which holds 40 per cent of the seats in his Cabinet.

Since the army has not been purged and many Fascist sympathizers remain in important positions, the Prime Minister can rely on the allegiance of the army leaders to give him their support against the alleged Communist plot to seize power.

So far there has been no resistance evidence that this was planned.

The Moscow press in turn accused Gen. Radescu of provoking a critical situation, which will enable him to take "Greek measures." Moscow demanded more action to curb the influence of Peasant Party Leader Maniu be reduced. At present his movements still hold the largest number of important Government posts.

Developments at the Rumanian affair are watched with great interest here, as in the first country freed by international conflict in which the "Three" action will be applicable instead of the earlier Teheran version of a division of spheres of interest.

The situation at the moment is coming dangerously close to that which prevailed in Greece before the civil war. The National Democratic Front is evidently growing in strength, while the Government is increasingly divided, between right and left, and resorting to police measures against the left.

Fifth Crossing Of Irrawaddy

CALCUTTA, Feb. 26 — British Fourteenth Army troops have made their fifth crossing of the Irrawaddy River, capturing the Burmese city of Pagan, 94 miles southwest of the Japanese citadel of Mandalay, and on the northern edge of Burma oil fields.

The new success in crossing the sixth river on the stage for a new allied big-pronged drive on Central Burma's rich oil fields.

British North Country troops, bolstered by Indian Sikhs, Gurkhas and Punjabi units, bumped past the Irrawaddy in the face of Japanese artillery and machine-gun fire.

Fast Airtrain troops on the west bank of the Irrawaddy and British and Indian troops across from them in Pagan now are in position to sweep south along both banks of the river—new valuable—oil fields stretching 60 miles south along the river. Advance elements already have penetrated to the edge of the oil fields.

DEBATE ENDS

REGINA, Feb. 26 (CP).—The six-day debate on the Throne Speech ended in the Saskatchewan Legislature tonight with adoption of the address in reply without a recorded vote.

Four ministers participated in the debate today: Resources Minister J. L. Phelps, the last speaker, vigorously supporting the Government plans for industrial projects; Dr. Basil Kaichenan.

Canadian Army Jumps Off in Renewed Offensive as U.S. Forces Smash Toward Rhine

American First Army Barely Ten Miles From Cologne—Canadians By-Pass Calcar

PARIS, Feb. 26 (CP).—The United States First Army drove troops and tanks within ten and one-half miles of the great Rhine city of Cologne tonight and pounded it with heavy guns while the American Ninth Army on the north achieved gains which a field officer said appeared to be a break-through six miles from the vital Ruhr Basin.

Farther north the Canadian First Army had jumped off in a new offensive and to the south the Third American Army broke loose in the Eifel Mountains.

With four Allied armies on the offensive on a 200-mile front, German Field Marshal Karl Von Rundstedt sought to rally his disorganized forces in order of the day calling on them to defend the Ruhr's approaches to the last man, saying that otherwise all was lost.

Front dispatches said the United States Third Army appeared to have achieved a second break-through 60 miles south of the First Army, where in a seven-mile surge tanks and troops broke across both the Prum and Kyll Rivers and were swiftly enveloping the enemy's Eifel Mountain stronghold of Bitburg

The Canadian First Army resumed its offensive on the north flank and behind a mighty barrage fought three and a half miles southeastward within a dozen miles of the Ruhr and reached into the bitterly defended town of Calcar.

The Canadian First Army drive may be designed to pin down the reserved enemy divisions and keep them from pouring in to strike mighty struggle swirling over the Cologne Plain.

United States First Army drove two spearheads within a dozen miles of the industrial capital city of Cologne. The Ninth Army on the north was six miles from the Ruhr foundries at Muenchen-Gladbach, had fought clear through the minefields and was overrunning anti-aircraft positions rarely captured in battle.

Reports from both the First and Ninth Army fronts told of rapid deterioration of the German positions, and a Ninth Army officer declared: "There is no organized line in front of us and it appears we have a break-through."

The front now was 40 miles wide beyond the Roer and 36 or more German towns fell during the day. Tanks and infantry, sweeping over

Vital Hill On Iwo Is Captured

Americans Use No. 1 Motoyama Airfield

GUAM, Feb. 27 (Tuesday) (AP).—Iwo Jima's captured southern airfield was put to American use for the first time Monday while marines, advancing up to 400 yards, captured an important hill overlooking most of the remaining Japanese positions.

A communique reported today that Liberator medium bombardment planes were using Motoyama No. 1 while 3rd Marine Division elements won most of the second airfield, Motoyama No. 2, in the centre of the island.

Use of Motoyama Airfield No. 1 indicated that fighters soon may be flying off that major airdrome, 660 miles from TOKIO.

The Division marines captured Hill 382, east of the central airfield Millmarin, the hill to a great extent as captured Mount Suribachi. From it artillery observers will be able to direct fire on the remaining Japs.

The deeply-entrenched enemy threw a heavy mix of artillery shells and rockets at the advancing Americans in the early day of the fifth full assault of the Pacific war.

All but the northeast tip of Motoyama Airfield No. 2, a two-mile flatter field, was in American hands.

The runways on Motoyama No. 1 were being rushed into condition to accommodate American fighters and bombers.

Massed Japanese infantrymen, using every type of defence, threw against the advancing marines probably their thickest line of rifle and machine-gun fire of the two campaign.

Mopping up continued south of Mount Suribachi.

By 6 p.m. yesterday 3,561 Japanese dead had been counted. Nine enemy prisoners were taken. This was the first mention of prisoners.

The 3rd, 4th and 5th Marine Division launched an attack Sunday to complete the capture of the field, striking after a bombardment by warships and artillery at enemy positions.

Supported by naval and land-based aircraft, the marines overran the east-west runway and seized two-thirds of the north-south strip

Alexander and Tito Agree on Coordination

Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, supreme Allied commander in the Mediterranean, and Marshal Tito reached an agreement "on all points" in the Italian-Yugoslav area at Caserta, Allied Headquarters announced today. They conferred in Belgrade.

The Serbian Chief of Staff received on an administrative arrangement for the supply of Tito's army. Their armed forces "eventually join," it is said.

The administrative agreement may mean Field Marshal Alexander and Marshal Tito settle the boundary between Bohemisch Leipa and Kassel.

The War Office said also that prisoners from Stalag 4, where Canadians also were reported located, had been divided, part proceeding toward Kassel and part to Nuremberg, while prisoners from Stalag 8C were moving toward Hanover and Kassel.

REBUILD FRENCH NAVY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (CP).—The United States will rebuild the navy of France, which the Germans scuttled at Toulon, at a cost of not more than $200,000,000 to rebuild the French Navy since the Allied landings in North Africa in 1942, it was announced tonight.

In addition, the United States will assistance from Britain, is supplying all material to operate the French fleet.

TO BUILD CLIPPERS

SAN DIEGO, Feb 26 (CP).—Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation announced today it will build a fleet of 15 204-passenger landbased Clippers for Pan-American World Airways. Flight time from New York to London will be slightly more than nine hours, Mr. Woodhead said

War's Most Important Policy Debate On Today

LONDON, Feb. 20 (CP).—Prime Minister Churchill will open the House of Commons tomorrow British-Russian most important foreign-policy debate of the year in the form of an account by one of the Big Three in the Crimea Conference.

London's diplomatic colony—particularly those of the smaller countries—counted upon obtaining hints what will help them prepare for the San Francisco world security parley in April.

Meanwhile French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault was said to have assured Mr. Churchill that France would re-operate fully with the Big Three in promoting the Allied policy blueprinted at Yalta.

Bidault's statement was were speaker over whether Mr. Churchill would

1. Discuss a treaty of alliance between British and France.

2. Report that Former Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk of Poland was ready to return to Warsaw to help form the new Polish Provisional Government of National Unity which the "Big Three" urged.

3. Disclose what the declarations of war by Turkey and Egypt will mean toward ultimate Allied victory.

Ministers of the Philippine Cabinet, members of the Congress and other high officers of the civil government attended.

Powerful Canadian Army Forces Strike Out Anew

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIAN FIRST ARMY IN GERMANY, Feb. 26 (CP).—A resurgent Canadian offensive rolled three and one-half miles down the muddied Rhine-Maas corridor today and established powerful new Allied infantry positions dominating the third and last line barring their path to the industrial Ruhr.

A strong northern jaw for the Allied thrust to crush the enemy west of the Rhine, the Canadian First Army struck out at Calcar, only two hours before dawn today, sent tanks and gun-armed and powerful forces of infantry into an assault that already has captured more than 1,000 prisoners and driven it so within one and one-half miles of the Rhine at Emmerich.

Canadian infantrymen were fighting in the town of Keppen, four miles south of Calcar and a mile north of Uedem, by tonight after a day in which every inch of ground was made despite the resistance of bootcamp mud which skewed and occasionally bogged the armor.

By gaining the stronghold of Calcar, the drive waited for a terrific 45-minute preliminary barrage by 800 guns, then struck out across the sodden soil with a momentum that carried them over and over half miles in the first three hours to a slope overlooking the Calcar-Uedem Line in front of the Hochwald -Hoch Forest. Throughout the day the mud continued to be a greater impediment than the enemy, but resistance is the crumbling.

Tonight the forward troops are well established and consolidated on the line, but progress can be expected to more than make up for any slowdowns.

Prisoners mounted steadily in number, swelling the total of 12 000 announced by Gen. Crerar's headquarters after the first 48 hours of the first 16 days of the offensive that rolled out of the Nijmegen, Holland, salient Prisoners of

Prisoners Moved

LONDON Feb 26 (CP).—The British War Office said tonight it had been informed that 4,000 sick American and British prisoners of war have left Stalag 344 at Lamsdorf in Eastern Germany, for another German prison camp as yet unknown. Canadians have been reported among prisoners located at Stalag 344.

Physically fit prisoners from Stalag 344 were reported moved by train between Bochmisch Leipa and Kassel.

The War Office said also that prisoners from Stalag 8 c, where Canadians also were reported located, had been divided, part proceeding toward Kassel and part to Nuremberg, while prisoners from Stalag 8C were moving toward Hanover and Kassel.

Immediate Plans of Assembly Call for $16,000,000 Program

Plans of the Coalition Government for the immediate future, as placed before the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Premier John Hart, call for the assembly to provide authority to borrow a total of $16,000,000; and for authority to use $4,000,000 out of revenue surplus.

Of the $16,000,000, the Electric [illegible] be loaned to the projected hydro-electric commission for acquisition and construction of power plants and distribution systems, the University of British Columbia Loan Act will require $5,000,000, the Farmers' Land Clearing Assistance Act, $500,000, and the Land Irrigation Assistance Loan Act, $500,000. In each case the authority will be for amounts "up to" these figures.

The $4,000,000 appropriation from revenue surplus will be allocated under the Revenue Surplus Appropriation Act, 1945, and will be similar to $4,0000.00 similarly allocated a year ago. The new act will provide $1,500,000 for additional maintenance work on roads, similar to last year; grants aggregating $1,600,000 to hospital construction, grants totaling $800,000 for school buildings, and $100,000 for purchase of A.R.P. equipment to be presented to the various districts in which it is now in use.

In addition to these direct provisions by statute, Premier Hart included in immediate plans the assistance to village municipalities, by way of guarantee of bonds to install waterworks and sewage disposal works. These guarantees, he said, "will be of great assistance to village municipalities as they will en- [illegible] undertakings at a cost substantially lower than was formerly the case."

The province will, again this year, make a rebate of 20 per cent of car licence fees, at a cost of $404,000.

Policy of permitting farmers to work out their taxes will continue, he said.

Unexpended borrowing powers under previous statutes amount to $19,136,703, and include varying amounts from 1925 onward. More than half of this total is in the 1943 Highway and Bridges Loan Act.

Estimates for the Department of Education call for an increase of $265,016, apart from $800,000 from revenue surplus to assist in school building construction. Major increases are $75,000 "for general salary grants for teachers to provide for the growth in our school population"; supplemental aid amounting to $45,000 to raise minimum salaries for rural teachers; an increase of $65,000 for adult education "which provides $10,000 more for recreational and physical education", and $55,000 more for Dominion-Provincial agreements which include occupational training, student aid bursaries and apprentice training, and additional grants to the University of British Columbia amounting to $35,488.

The Danger of Coughs Among the Children

In young children a cold or cough is not a thing to be disregarded, as it is often of a grave matter, and unless attended to immediately may, eventually, cause serious trouble.

On the first sign of a cough or cold the mother will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy to help get rid of the trouble.

Its promptness and effectiveness in loosening the phlegm, and stimulating the bronchial organs is such that the cough may be checked before anything of a serious nature sets in.

Allied Armies Hammer at Germany on the West

THE Allied armies hammering at Germany on the West today are in approximately the same strategic position as last Fall when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower predicted that the decisive battle for Germany well might be fought on the plains of Cologne—west of the Rhine.

Von Rundstedt's desperate and well-timed counter-thrust through the Ardennes into Belgium delayed, [illegible] Eisenhower's strategy. That strategy appears to be to chop up the German Army west of the Rhine if possible, but east of that wide and formidable stream if necessary.

To strive for a knockout of the Nazis on the Cologne plain, Eisenhower's armies (now at greater combat strength than ever before, according to Prime Minister Churchill) are mounting pressure along the 250-mile front. It is a great squeeze play: In the north, Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's Canadian First Army has been closing up to the Rhine in a movement to outflank the West Wall and open the way for a sweep onto the plain. The British Second and the United States Ninth and First Armies directly face the Ruhr and the Cologne plain. Below them, Lieut.-Gen. George S. Patton's armored Third threatens the Saar, and in the south, the American Seventh and French First Armies are in a position to drive up the Rhine Valley. A new Allied army may also be available.

The Germans can attempt to hold off this formidable array of power, but in doing so they will risk annihilation of forces they cannot afford to lose. They can try to retreat across the Rhine, but this alternative also presents grave hazards.

Eisenhower has said that for the Germans to retreat across that river would be almost like a naval operation. Certainly if the retreat began, Allied airmen would knock out whatever remaining bridges span the river. And unless the weather were bad, they would certainly massacre enemy troops trying to get across the Rhine in slow-moving boats.

Aside from the opportunity it offers to finish off the bulk of Hitler's Western Front forces, the Cologne plain is important as an historic invasions route to Germany. The Romans invaded it by this route and set up garrisons at Aachen, which now lies in rubble behind American lines. The British considered the city of Cologne so important they occupied it after the First Great War until 1926.

Budget

the additional amount paid to civil servants and Government employees by way of cost-of-living bonus," the amount of $611,727 set down being an increase of $84,399 over the year now closing.

"The vote covering appropriations in connection with the public debt includes new debt redemption provisions amounting to $1,350,000. Of this sum $1,000,000 will be placed in our sinking funds, and $350,000 will be spent as a serial debt installment," Premier Hart stated. Offsetting this increase to some extent will be $157,880 reduction in debt interest, and $7,275 less in the annual installment on the British Columbia House mortgage due to final liquidation of this debt.

Increases for various departments include agriculture, $58,686, attorney-general, $208,523, education, $265,016, finance, $67,425, lands, $150,000 more for forest protection and $114,480 for new personnel and expansion in services, mines, $31,645, provincial secretary, $386,518, Public Utilities Commission and Motor Carrier Act, $23,040, public works, $166,564, trade and industry, $38,663.

Premier Hart stated the increase in trade and industry appropriations of $38,663 included $30,000 additional for industrial and scientific research.

In the Provincial Secretary's Department the more important increases in anticipated expenditure are: $133,130 under the Superannuation Act, $110,322 for social assistance, $48,570 for child welfare division, $409,885 for Board of Health, of which $282,379 will be used for tuberculosis control, $148,628 for mental hospitals, and $44,983 for sundry other services. Increases in this department aggregate $886,819, but are offset by elimination of the $500,000 special vote last year in connection with salary increases. The net anticipated increase is $386,818.

THREE BOND ISSUES REFUNDED IN YEAR

British Columbia's gross debt on December 31 last, Premier Hart stated, amounted to $150,742,574. Value of sinking funds was $18,323,742, leaving a net debt of $132,418,832.

During 1944 the Province repaid $1,871,510 of its debt by providing $1,672,000 to meet serial debenture installments, by payment of a $5,700 installment on British Columbia House, London and by part repayment of treasury bills and debentures to the extent of $193,500.

Three bond issues, two on the New York market and two on the domestic market, were refunded during 1944. Those on the New York market amounted to $7,000,000. Refunding instead of paying them off saved the Province $700,000 in exchange. The domestic issue amounted to nearly $4,000,000.

Reduced interest rates resulted in a saving of $186,315, "which will increase further as and when payments of the principal installments on the serial issue are made," Premier Hart said.

"No other province in the Dominion can boast of having reduced its debt in a like degree or of having conserved its cash resources to a like extent," Premier Hart declared. "No other provincial area has prepared plans so far-reaching and progressive . . . nor has it comparable resources immediately available for their success. Each and every plan or measure is of a positive nature, and a time will come when we shall be able to look back with pride on a notable contribution to the winning of the greatest and fiercest war, and to an equally notable contribution to the winning of an enduring peace," he asserted.

trenches and fortifications, were three to four miles at four points from the Erft River, last-ditch enemy line before the Rhine.

Sixty miles to the south, the United States Third Army scored a seven-mile break-through in the Eifel Mountains that shredded the enemy's Pruem River defences and was driving before it German forces so bewildered that it was difficult to say where they could make a stand.

Gen. Crerar's infantry seized and held on to an escarpment overlooking the Hochwald, the last natural barrier standing between them and the Ruhr, now about 12 miles ahead.

If they fight through that forest, there will be no natural barriers left to keep them from breaking from the north into that part of the Ruhr industrial basin lying west of the Rhine.

One force was fighting in Keppeln, four miles south of Calcar and a mile north of the enemy base at Uedem.

Another fought into the edge of Calcar itself, which the Germans appeared to be preparing to abandon, since they blew the bridge on the main road out on the south.

Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent, who toured the front Monday morning in the wake of tanks and infantry said the ground and tactical situation bore a striking parallel to that south of Caen in Normandy last August—except for the mud.

South of Caen the Canadian First Army broke the Germans' Normandy line and if they get through the Hochwald line here they will probably unloosen the stubborn defence of the Rhine while the Americans strike ahead to the south, Munro added.

Pilots spotted heavy road and rail movement speeding westward beyond the Rhine toward Cologne, a ruined city of 768,000 population on the west bank which could be used for a stand like that at Stalingrad.

The United States First Army slashing eight miles beyond Dueren was within sight of Cologne, 12 miles ahead. Less than four miles in front of them was the Erft River.

New Plans for Civil Defence

"The Government is taking a long-range view of the situation, and the cost of the insurance to the public will be very small in comparison to the protection they will receive should anything occur," Inspector A. H. Bishop, controller of Civil Defence for Victoria, stated yesterday on receipt of information that Civil Defence would carry on as usual in the coastal areas.

"We have a highly-trained body of men and women, and are prepared to cope with any emergency," the inspector declared. "All units will be brought up to date as regards the new type of attack by flying bombs. Rescue squads will have to be reorganised and increased to cope with this type of attack, and all wardens will be asked to take a course in rescue work, he explained.

Paying tribute to the work of the nursing division, Inspector Bishop said "They will be asked to increase the number of their units. Their work has been particularly gratifying and their training received under the nursing division of the St. John Ambulance Corps and the Red Cross, is extremely valuable in hospital work due to the present shortage of trained nurses."

Plans for the reorganization of the Civil Defence units are already under way, and the new training courses will be started as soon as possible, Inspector Bishop stated.

Ross Munro Story

taken today were from the 8th Paratroops Division, although, as far as is known, there are still elements of ten divisions in front of the army.

With today's attack this Canadian First Army campaign swung into its second great phase. The lull of the week-end marked the period between:

1 The 18-mile drive by British, Canadian and Netherlands troops which cleared at least 20 miles of the flooded south bank of the Rhine between a point near Nijmegen and Emmerich, eliminated Kleve and Goch, twin bastions of the Northern Siegfried Line, drew large German forces away from the American assault towards Cologne.

And

2 A new drive which, aside from demanding the attention of large enemy forces, is a threat in itself to the vital Ruhr.

The attack began in the predawn darkness when columns of tanks and armored infantry carriers rolled south over soggy undulating slopes dotted with clumps of trees and tiny German villages which had been smashed by the preliminary artillery barrage.

Fifteen minutes after the bombardment started the Germans threw a counter-attack against Ontario troops, but it was beaten off and Western and French-speaking Quebec infantry struck south on schedule.

The Canadians looped around Calcar without attacking the wrecked communications centre and swept ahead to capture important slopes two and three miles south of Calcar.

The Westerners and French-speaking troops jumped from the armored carriers and dug in to consolidate their positions as additional tank forces passed through and sloshed through foot-deep mud to take more high ground near the Hochwald Line.

Ontario infantry went with the tanks.

The Canadians reached points around the hamlet of Todtenduigel, about one and one-half miles from the line which consists of dug-in defences without concrete emplacements.

Russian Drive

begun on a line extending from Juestrin, on the Oder 38 miles northeast of Berlin, southward to the approaches to Goerlitz, Silesia's second city, 48 miles east of Dresden, Saxon capital.

The enemy said that Soviet bridgeheads on the west bank of the Neisse River in the Lausitz district of swamps and highlands northwest of Goerlitz, had been wiped out, but also said that Red Army shock troops held the suburbs of Guben and Forst, Eisar River strongholds, 51 and 67 miles southeast of Berlin.

A German broadcast also said Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukraine Army's southern wing had broken into Lauban, 12 miles east of Goerlitz and about the same distance from the Saxon frontier where it joins the Bohemian frontier of Czecho-Slovakia. This indicated that the Russians already had severed the trunk railway leading from Dresden southeastward to Moravska-Ostrava, Czecho-Slovakia's third city and big industrial centre in Moravian Silesia.

Hard fighting also was reported at Goldberg, 27 miles east of imperilled Lauban, and 46 miles west of encircled Breslau, Lower Silesian capital. In this area the Russians by German account were slowly driving the enemy back into the foothills of the Sudeten Mountains.

Berlin said the quiet in Central Slovakia also was broken by Soviet troops who captured Slatina, only five miles east of Zvolen, Hron River stronghold on the Lucenec-Moravska Ostrava trunk railway where it crosses a line leading southward to Budapest. Threatened Zvolen is 100 miles northeast of Bratislava, Slovak capital, and only ten miles south of Banska-Bystrica.

The Nazi High Command meanwhile officially confirmed Sunday's German reports that the Lower Hron River bridgehead held by Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukraine Army, east of Komarom (Komarno) and northwest of fallen Budapest, had been wiped out. It said the Russians lost more than 4,000 dead and 700 prisoners. Ninety tanks and 304 guns were destroyed or captured, the bulletin said.

Moscow has acknowledged withdrawals in this area but has not specified their extent. The purpose of the German attack there was to disrupt a coming Soviet offensive toward Vienna, 105 miles west of the Hron, Berlin said.

WAR APPROVED

CAIRO, Feb. 26 (CP).—Egypt's declaration of war against Germany and Japan was approved tonight by both Houses of Parliament. The Government also obtained a vote of confidence.

B.C. Has $15,000,000 Ready for Works Plan

Premier John Hart announced in his budget address to the Legislature yesterday that British Columbia has in hand over $15,000,000 for the immediate initiation of a $30,600,000 program of public works "immediately after the war ends."

He stated the Province could immediately embark on this program, [illegible] because it would not be necessary to borrow. It had been accumulated, he explained further, in anticipation so that the Province would be in a position to let the contracts and initiate the work as soon as desired.

Premier Hart stated the $15,000,000 was in addition to $4,000,000 appropriated last year out of surplus revenue for extraordinary road maintenance, buildings and the preliminary work on the Peace River Highway, and to another $4,000,000 to be appropriated in the coming year, out of which $1,500,000 would be for extraordinary road expenditure, $1,600,000 would be granted for hospital construction, $800,000 for school construction, and $100,000 for purchase of A.R.P. equipment.

He said the $30,600,000 program was "not designed especially for the purpose of giving employment, but rather the result of the natural development of the province and to a large degree necessary to take care of improvements or undertakings which had been deferred during the war." It included: General road paving and highway improvements, $10,000,000; Peace River Highway, $6,000,000, Hope-Princeton Highway, $2,600,000, public buildings, $7,000,000, and university buildings, $5,000,000.

Premier Hart said that in addition to these projects, "there are other public works that will take place for which the Province will be responsible in both a direct or indirect manner, and which will be made possible by the available borrowing power or by cash reserves."

WILL BE AVAILABLE WHEN MOST EFFECTIVE

"Needless to say," he continued, "the expenditure of these funds will be distributed progressively according to needs. It will take place, however, at a time when its value as a postwar rehabilitation factor will be most effective; at the critical time when we shall experience that inevitable period of economic readjustment that has as its concomitant industrial dislocations and conversions, displacements of labor and the re-establishment of demobilized personnel from several arms of His Majesty's forces."

Survey of the civil service, under which 4,157 positions were appraised and valued and 3,836 salary increases were recommended, included a report that "certain refinements still are necessary and that a number of minor problems remain to be dealt with," Mr. Hart said. The committee in charge also reported "that sound and progressive administration of the civil service will require the establishment of a continuing committee, or body, to supervise future developments and make periodic recommendations."

The survey covered practically all Government employees employed on a permanent or continuous basis, and embraced, in addition to the civil service property, the staffs of institutions, employees of Government commissions or agencies, the Provincial Police and the Liquor Control Board.

Initial cost of Government salary [illegible] Number receiving increases amounted to 92.43 per cent of those employed [illegible] the average increase per person [illegible] $126.70. Of the total of $486,0[illegible] increases awarded to those receiving less than $1,500 annually accounted for $220,212, and to those in the bracket from $1,501 to $2,500 accounted for $200,994, a total in these two groups of $421,206, or 86.7 per cent.

B.C. TO RETAIN WAR TRAINING EQUIPMENT

Total spent for war emergency training of soldiers and civilians, Premier Hart stated, was $1,752,307, of which the Dominion paid $1,710,307. The Province's share was to provide technical staff and equipment, and to pay half of the cost of new equipment and fiscal administration. All equipment reverts to the Province when training terminates.

Expenditures for the current year under the war emergency training program were anticipated at $209,646, of which the Province would contribute approximately $12,515.

Trends for the current year indicate an actual expenditure of $1,386,000 for social assistance and medical aid in the coming year, said the Premier, but since "economic trends and social conditions require caution in estimating future trends, and as a measure of safety," an appropriation of $1,600,000 is proposed.

"Concurrent with social assistance, and as a result of agreements entered into with the Dominion, expenditures were incurred for occupational training, student aid and assistance to dependents of aliens," Mr. Hart said. The total of these in 1943-44 was $90,335, of which the Dominion contributed $48,122. He anticipated expenditure in the current year in this respect at $84,000, of which the Province would pay $40,000, and added that "proposals for the fiscal year 1945-46, while still indefinite, may involve a gross expenditure of approximately $140,000."

"Available indices" on industrial activity in British Columbia during 1944 showed "a slight increase over 1943 in the total value of basic production, but a considerable shift as between kinds," the Premier said.

Agricultural production was valued at $100,000,000, an increase of $13,082,000; forest products at $124,000,000, an increase of $5,596,000; fisheries at $32,478,000, a decrease of $2,676,000, and mines at $55,000,000, a drop of $10,892,000.

Net value of all industrial production was expected to amount "to some $620,000,000" during 1944, he said.

Cheques cashed in British Columbia rose to $3,735,622,000 in 1944.

Armored Units Grind Into Action in Canadian Offensive

By H. T. MATSON
Daily Colonist War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIAN FIRST ARMY IN GERMANY, Feb. 26 (By cable).—"And we're going to take that high ground and the ridge beyond it by tonight if there's only one tank left to do it . . ."

Those words were pronounced to- [illegible] Canadian major standing in a front-line hollow from the rim of which you could see the long dark line of clouds, punctured irregularly by distant roofs and spires beneath which were poised nobody quite knew just how many grim, determined Germans.

Back of the hollow and to the right and left tanks were staggering slowly into position, while still farther back great bull-throated howitzers were ponderously firing. To right and left and from the western flank batteries of "five-fives" and twenty-five pounders maintained a vicious and incessant barrage, and along the mud-bound road, cutting through fields and dipping deep into nearby valleys, trucks, jeeps, armored cars and motorcycles slewed and staggered with clay buzzing and moaning from their clogged, distracted wheels.

The above is an attempted picture of the start of just one phase of an [illegible] planned, ambitious, all-Canadian offensive that ground into action at 4 30 a.m. on the wet, wind-tormented morning of February 26—an operation that was cited last night as being possibly the duplicate of the hinge-cracking venture at Falaise—but this time, the western hinge.

At about 10 this morning I was sharing footroom in the hollow with the major, who swore he would have his tanks on the objective that very night, and already their huge hard bodies were churning about, in the deep, hungry mud and floundering violently. But despite mud those tanks got started.

CHATTER SAVAGELY AGAINST GROUND

From the top of the hill they could be seen slowly, laboriously digging their steel teeth first through the soft green turf and then deep into the red, voracious clay. First one would get a grip—then two more—then 10 or 12 would find traction simultaneously and lumber ahead with motors sonorously roaring and tanks chattering savagely against ground that literally clutched them.

On they went; slowly, slowly, gradually gaining speed until finally attaining that characteristic lurching maximum that presently began to deploy and spread them like mammoth turtles fanning out across the dunes of shuddering, implacable [illegible] plunged over the first ridge and were beginning to hide themselves temporarily in the subsequent gully, behind them others were coming up the ridge and far to the right still further elements were swinging forward in an apparent flanking movement.

Within an hour these forward elements had negotiated a second incline and were driving hard against a third, while still more came gnawing through from the rear.

But as yet even the foremost tanks were nowhere near the objective, one must wait, wait patiently—but sooner or later Jerry would open up with guns snug in the distant fortifications under the dark cloud-line and then smoke, noise and splayed metal would cover that vale-enhanced panorama sufficiently to terrorize all living things within a three-mile radius.

SHELLS BURST NEAR OBJECTIVE

At last the hard, weltering eighty-eights and howitzers let go. Their din was palpable. But by this time the first line of tanks had worked into thick distant smoke and only red spurtings marked their movements, while far ahead wide yellowish arcs told where their shells were busting on or near the objective. Back in the rear our artillery kept incessantly hammering, but from the air came relatively nothing—the weather apparently was in no mood to help the Canadians.

Around 3 o'clock I was jeeping over bumps and through gulfs of mud that only such an enigmatic thing as "jeep" would cast an eye upon—only God can build a tree, so the song says, and I'll lay any odds that only God can build a jeep; and furthermore can stop one. It passed bogged-down armored cars, carriers and even half-tracks and finally snuffled into a farmyard by a house with a high gable, where sat a corporal with field glasses taking observations.

This was within a mile of battle and through glasses I could see tanks spuming red, and not only hear but feel the return-fire from Hun artillery.

Several tanks had "had it," said the corporal, but in spite of it the bulk of them were getting on the objective. Around that house were at least 20 craters and within 20 feet lay one of the seven-foot German rockets—a dud—that had arrived about 15 minutes previously. It was a hot corner, commented the corporal, a hell of a hot one—but it was quiet for the moment and the corp was relaxing with a cigarette.

I asked him, as I had asked many others during the day, what had he heard from other quarters—from the infantry particularly. Not much, he replied, clicking his tongue—he'd been stuck in that gable since 7 a.m., and all he knew about were Kraut shells and plenty. A captain suddenly thumping up the stairs had a better concept—from all accounts everything was going reasonably save for tardiness due to ground conditions.

FAVORABLE PROGRESS IS REPORTED

From the farmhouse I watched till about four o'clock—tanks had then begun to consolidate, indicating a static period of unguessable length before kicking off again, so the remaining move was to search out headquarters of various units and try to assimilate something at least quasi-comprehensive re the day's offensive.

At two headquarter reports were practically identical, viz., very favorable progress in consideration of weather conditions and intractable ground. To have been able to wait and ascertain whether the full objective of this armored unit would be realized was not possible—it was close to 5 30, the road back would doubtless be a gorged, twisting python of unbroken traffic—one would be lucky to return in time to feed and then struggle out a story for the 9 p.m. "D R" service down to "Main."

American news from the First and Ninth looks good. I worked three hours Saturday night on a story related to same then had to ditch it. It was compiled wholly on rumor—official release suddenly blew into advance camp about 9 p.m.—so, zipp went that beautiful documentation, for what use is rumor when facts suddenly become useable? . . . this work is sometimes irksome.

Lived Here 26 Years

Private funeral services for the late Richard Henderson, 91, were held at 348 Foul Bay Road yesterday morning, followed by cremation at Royal Oak Burial Park. Hayward's B.C. Funeral Company was in charge of arrangements. Mr. Henderson was born in South America on April 23, 1854, the son of John Henderson, founder of the Anchor Line. He passed away last Saturday.

Mr. Henderson served with his father's company in many parts of the world, and from 1899 to 1912 was chairman of the board of directors. From 1903 to 1923 he was trustee of the Rangoon Tramway Company and from 1900 to 1907 served as a member of the Mersey Docks and Harbor Board. He was also deputy chairman of the Liverpool, London and Globe Insurance Company. He had resided here for the past 26 years.

STOKE-ON-TRENT, England (CP)—At the age of 52 F. L. Bunn, chief constable here, decided to become a barrister. Now at 55 he has been called to the bar.

The Fighting Forces

Had Busy Time

LT. D. J. BARKER

Eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Barker, 430 Boleskine Road, had a busy month in England and Holland around the end of the old year and the beginning of 1945. He married, had his honeymoon, went to France, was wounded and returned to England inside of four weeks. He landed at Halifax this week among more than 1,000 Canadian Army officers and men who arrived on two hospital ships. Born in Victoria, Lt. Barker was a Daily Colonist carrier as a boy, and attended Victoria High School. He enlisted in 1940 and was a recent graduate of Sandhurst Military College, England.

Sings at Concert

TEL. CLIFF BRISTOW

Of Victoria, with all the poise and confidence of a concert artist, caresses a microphone and smilingly sings "My Wild Irish Rose" at a concert on his ship, the minesweeper H.M.C.S. Buctouche. Tel. Bristow, 24, R.C.N.V.R., began taking singing lessons as a baritone in Victoria before he joined the navy in 1940. When his ship happened to tie up at a United States port recently, a group of airline hostesses organized a party for the crew, and Bristow's singing was one of the hits of the evening.

Home on Leave

CPL. PERCY B. W. INGRAM

Son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. M. Ingram, 1343 Pembroke Street, is spending leave with his parents. Born in England, Cpl. Ingram, 27, R.C.A.F., came to Canada in 1923, and was graduated from a Vancouver high school. He was with the 111th Non-Permanent Air Force, Vancouver, since 1934, and enlisted for active service with the R.C.A.F. six years ago, and is serving as an armament instructor. He was last stationed in Saskatoon, where his wife, Lena, and three-year-old daughter, Patricia, are residing. His father was a veteran of the First Great War, serving with the 44th [illegible] during the present war and was discharged in August, 1943. Three sisters, Esther, Marjorie and Joan are with the R.C.A.F. (W.D.), and two cousins, Capt. George Cassidy and First Class Stoker S. T. "Jack" Russell, are with the navy here.

Serving in Holland

SIGMN. PETER J. HUTTON

Son of Mrs. H. C. Edwards, 2941 Prior Street, is now serving in Holland, according to recent word received here. Born in Falmouth, Cornwall, he was educated at North Ward School, Victoria High School and Victoria College. Sigmn. Hutton was attached to the 13th Field Ambulance prior to transferring to the Royal Canadian Signal Corps. He has been overseas for the past three years. A brother, John, is serving with the R.C.N.

At Vancouver Today

CPL. GEORGE GIBSON

Son of Mrs. Isabelle Gibson, 1118 Chapman Street, who will arrive at Vancouver today and will be greeted by his mother, who left for the Mainland yesterday. Enlisting in the army at the outbreak of the war, Cpl. Gibson served overseas with the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment. He was awarded the Canadian Efficiency Medal in 1943 for meritorious service in the non-permanent active militia of Canada. Two brothers are serving in the army.

Serves in Scotland

Pte. Roy A. Darville, son of Mrs. J. S. Darville, Zeballos, is serving in Scotland. Seattle born he was educated on the West Coast. Enlisting in 1943 with the R.C.A., he went overseas in April, 1944, and prior to enlistment was engaged in the sawmill business at Tofino and salmon seining at Clayoquot. When Zeballos boomed in 1938 he was manager of the Zeballos Lumber Company. Well known in sport circles he was at one time with Tye Watson's Zeballos Bombers, and was one of the owners of Zeballos Community Hall built in 1941 under the banner of the Sports Club.

Aerial Attack

in its night operations against Berlin was 2,800 long tons on March 25, 1944. On the night of February 15 of that year the tonnage dropped was recorded as over 2,500.

The huge air fleet exceeded by more than 200 planes the size of the assault on the German capital February 3 by American bombers and fighters.

Preceding today's raid the city had been hammered with two-ton blockbusters for six successive nights by R.A.F. Mosquitos.

Even though battered by scores of previous attacks and variously estimated as [illegible] per cent destroyed, Berlin still is an important railway hub and practically all supplies and reinforcements for the Eastern Front must move through it.

Another attack on Berlin shortly after nightfall was indicated by the enemy radio which flashed an alarm that strong formations of Allied bombers were over the city. [illegible] then left the air.

AN ADVANCED R.C.A.F. AIRFIELD IN HOLLAND, Feb. 26 (CP)—Canadian Spitfires, in one case outnumbered more than four to one, destroyed eight ME109s and damaged two others, an ME262 and a twin jet fighter without loss when they encountered sizeable German flights over the Western Front yesterday.

The victories brought the total number of aircraft destroyed by the Canadian top-scoring wing of the 2nd Tactical Air Force to 299 since its formation in July, 1943, of which 270 have been shot down since D Day.

Seven of the ME109s were destroyed by the Caribou Squadron. Two were shot down by Flt. Lt. R. B. Barker of Vancouver while one went to Flt. Lt. D. C. Gordon, D.F.C., of Vancouver. Barker also scored one damaged.

The Caribous attacked when they sighted more than 20 FW190s and ME109s and a general melee began which the Caribous were joined by 20 more which swooped down from a cloud overhead.

LONDON (CP)—Flt. Lt. Walter Thimblethorpe, turned down as being too old for a pilot soon after the war began, is completing his third tour of operations as an air gunner at the age of 44.

Crimea Talks Over Poland Well Founded

LONDON, Feb. 27 (Tuesday) (Reuters)—Arguments supporting the Crimea decision regarding Poland will withstand the closest scrutiny, The Times of London said today in an editorial a few hours before the opening of a three-day parliamentary debate on the conference of Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin.

The Times noted, however, that the decision had been represented in some quarters, both in Britain and the United States, as a mere concession to power politics, unjustified by any consideration of equity.

To settle the rankling Polish issue, the "Big Three" agreed on a formula providing for merging the provisional government recognized by Russia with certain unnamed "Democratic leaders" from within Poland and from Poles abroad. It also provided that Messrs. Churchill and Roosevelt recognize Premier Stalin's insistence on the Curzon Line as Poland's eastern boundary, which gives Russia huge chunks of prewar Poland, including the cities of Vilno and Lwow.

Recalling that the Polish commission of the 1919 peace conference was unanimous in recommending the Curzon Line, The Times said "The apprehensions which the Polish annexations after 1919 inspired at that time in many sincere friends of Poland were justified up to the hilt and are no whit less valid today."

Dealing with the provisional government, the paper mentioned the "wholly unreal" situation of the different Polish authorities and their failure over a long period to make any progress towards composition of differences.

"It is difficult to see what decision was possible other than to reorganize the administration now working," The Times said.

"All the evidence suggests that Marshal Stalin desires to see in Warsaw not a puppet government acting under Russian orders but a friendly government which, fully conscious of the supreme importance of Russo-Polish concord, will frame its own independent policies in that context."

Riots in Quebec Over Draftees

DRUMMONDVILLE, Que., Feb. 26 (CP)—This centre of 10,500 persons, 60 miles east of Montreal, remained quiet today, following a wild Sunday morning melee in [illegible] draft-dodger-seeking Provost Corps and Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Estimates of the crowd participating in the trouble ran as high as 2,000. At one time in the two-hour mixup an alert was sent to Lord Sherbrooke Military Camp, 50 miles away, to prepare to send assistance. The trouble died out soon afterwards, however.

When it was all over, the joint police force, estimated variously at from 80 to 200 men, had taken 60 men into temporary custody for questioning and had later released all but eight who were taken to Montreal. Eventually another three were released after proving that their military papers were in order.

Of the five remaining, one was classed as an army deserter, three others face charges of failing to report for military service, and a fourth faces the charge of failing to possess a national registration card.

Broad Gains Made

The sweeping character of the Allied advances in the West leave little doubt of the success of General Eisenhower's attack, one which may have as its objective the closing out of all enemy forces on this side of the Rhine. Impressive gains were reported over the week-end and from every section of the front. In the extreme north, the Canadians and the British Second Army were sweeping ahead of Goch towards Calcar and Weeze. The United States First Army was 12 miles from Cologne, and had gathered in 25 small towns and villages on the Cologne plain.

The United States Ninth Army was crossing the Roer in force, four miles from the Erft River and within 20 miles of Duesseldorf. The United States Third Army won seven miles to the Nims River, and was ten miles southeast of Trier, which was partially outflanked. The same unit also captured a dozen German settlements en route. The United States Seventh Army was into the Saar district, and extending its grip on German soil. Farther south again, French troops were giving a sturdy account of themselves at the southern hinge of the German line.

While the positions won can be traced on the map, the detail is of less importance than the main picture. That is that the Allies in this attack have taken the Germans off balance, and are pushing in their defences west of the Rhine. The Ruhr and the Saar are threatened, and large segments of terrain watered by the Rhine are passing into Allied hands. So far, the German counter-attacks have been relatively disorganized and weak, although furious fighting has opposed our troops at various isolated points. There can be, however, no denying the success of the Allied advance. It has already brought 30,000 German prisoners into the fold, and overrun close upon fifty small towns and villages. And this, in a sense, is only the start. The major decision in this particular action has yet to come.

Meanwhile in the East, the Russians were meeting with similar success. While 1,200 Allied planes blasted Berlin from the air in one of the hardest blows of the war, Russian infantry was reported within 38 miles of the capital of the Reich. Still more important, they had laid siege to Breslau, and were approaching Frankfurt from two directions in force. Mopping up was proceeding along the Baltic coast, and while some German resistance was still reported in East Prussia it is now cut off from direct connection with the Reich.

What is striking, East and West, in the war today is the speed of these actions. Ground is being taken in a week that two years ago would have meant a prolonged campaign. Nor is Germany holding on her lines. She is yielding, even sagging heavily at places. Withdrawal of the enemy from Italy now cannot be long delayed.

The Budget

Premier John Hart, in his capacity as Minister of Finance, delivered his nineteenth budget in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday, a record assuredly for Canada. Although forecasted in many respects by policy speeches the budget was a noteworthy one. It promised no change in taxation, a balanced budget with estimated revenues of $37,267,713 in the coming fiscal year and a postwar program involving the expenditure of $30,600,000—of which sum $15,000,000 is already in hand in cash. Further, Mr. Hart could say, and did say, that British Columbia's per capita wealth is now the highest in Canada.

On the general features of that fiscal program the Coalition Government will be commended. Direct action on our roads, hospitals, schools and health services is pledged. There is to be substantial assistance for the University of British Columbia. Chief plans, and this is as it should be, are attuned to the veterans who will return to this province from the war, and there the Administration appears to be making substantial provisions. Continued rebate in motor licence fees will be welcome, as will civil service readjustments, by those who have devoted their lives to the public service. With most of these things we can agree, and heartily.

The municipalities of the Province may or may not be pleased with what is set out for them. When it comes to cutting $7,000,000 melons, the Province has not shared many of them with its municipalities directly, although indirectly, we are aware, that there is another side to that story. If the "balanced" budgets of British Columbia in the last few years have led uniformly to a revenue surplus of millions, it must also be remembered that Mr. Hart can now say that he has $15,000,000 on hand in cash for a start with British Columbia's postwar plans. Making such a showing, however, we can not longer go begging to Ottawa. We would be turned away.

Bearing in mind that this is a wartime, emergency year the Provincial Treasury has done well. British Columbia is beginning to acquire something akin to a working capital, and that will be very useful in the years to come. The public debt has been reduced—it is now $150,000,000 gross and $132,000,000 net—and while the volume of expenditure has gone up quite sharply in the last five years, revenues have more than matched those outlays. The more reason, we say, why British Columbia should continue to play its cards cautiously, and to avoid any extensive experiment with the taxpayers' money, in rural electrification or otherwise. This re- [illegible] pruning and good husbandry. It can be obliterated in a fraction of that time by one false step. Let us watch our steps!

Assassination

The assassination of Premier Ahmed Maher, of Egypt, as he walked between the two houses of the Egyptian Parliament after the lower assembly had declared war upon the Axis Powers on Saturday, marks another tragedy in the grim toll of this world conflict. Like the assassination of Lord Moyne, the slaying of Premier Maher was, or appears to have been, of the inspired variety—inspired by those who certainly are not the friends of world freedom. Premier Maher fell mortally wounded from revolver shots in his body, fired by a youth who, hidden in the gardens nearby, did only too well what he had been delegated to perform—the murder of a brave and well-intentioned man.

There is no suggestion that the two assassinations were related in any way, and indeed it is highly improbable that they were or could have been. The similarity is in the picking of a young, hot-headed dupe to carry out the slaying in either case. The assailant, taken in the garden where he slew Premier Maher, will be brought to trial in due course. But that will not restore the life of the murdered premier, a good friend to the British Empire and to the free world.

If Premier Maher was to be killed for bringing Egypt into the war on the side of the United Nations it is remarkable that whatever agency inspired the assassination waited that long. Four years ago Premier Maher was advocating just that course. Then the Italians were massing in Libya, and about to head over the border at Berdia into Egypt. This man spoke out for his nation, and fearlessly. That he should die now at the hands of a coward will be regretted by every member nation of the United Nations, and by the British Empire most of all. Head of a Coalition Government, the late premier had piloted Egypt through the greatest crisis of her career in modern times, to safety. No stone should be left unturned to discover who really is responsible for the dastardly act.

Of Serious Purpose

We believe that we are correct in stating that Greater Victoria has not been without some kind of a drive for funds under way ever since the last Victory Loan. That is not an adverse criticism; indeed it is a measure of the fine spirit of this community in response to war days. The plain fact is, however, that this community has now been asked to find $90,000 in the Canadian Red Cross drive for $10,000,000 throughout Canada, and there at any cost we must not fail. This is a debt owed to those who are fighting in our name at this very minute. Whatever it takes to care for them must be provided, and without cessation or stint.

In four and a half years the public of Canada has grown rather accustomed to having its war upon paper. War, however, is not quite so easy as that. Men at the hazard of their lives are making these advances in the field that we read about. Wounded, they go through twenty or thirty hands before they come to rest in a base hospital. That journey, from battlefield to hospital cot, is not any bed of roses; do what men can to relieve the suffering and the fret. Dollars could not buy that experience, and nothing can take it away. It is a fighting men's own.

Yet dollars can help in the battle. They can be turned into direct services in the field, and that is where they are most needed just now. They do fill parcels of food for prisoners of war. They can be made to nurse the sick, and to meet the bereft and distressed with something a little better than mere sympathy. This is a work of true mercy. It is essential. It is in the interest of our own men now at the front, and performing human miracles there. This community can find $90,000 in the next few weeks if each one will do his share. We must not only try, we must succeed.

From "Resignation"

Let us be patient! These severe afflictions
Not from the ground arise
But oftentimes celestial benedictions
Assume this dark disguise

We see but dimly through the mists and vapors
Amid these earthly damps
What seems to us but sad funereal tapers
May be Heaven's distant lamps

And though at times impetuous with emotion
And anguish long suppressed
The swelling heart heaves moaning like the ocean
That cannot be at rest

We must be patient and assuage the feeling
We cannot quite gainsay
By silence sanctifying, not concealing,
The grief that must have way

Paardeberg, 1900

FRANK M. KELLEY

The South African War, or the Boer War as it was more generally known at the turn of the century, was the first occasion on which a representative contingent of volunteer fighting men left Canada to take part in oversea battles on behalf of Empire. True, individual Canadians had already served with Imperial forces in a number of campaigns in various parts of the world, [illegible] liams, who for his outstanding services in the Crimea was made a baron, with the title of Sir Fenwick Williams of Kars.

Another campaign in which a group of Canadians distinguished themselves was the Nile Expedition under General Wolseley. Serving as voyageurs, or canoe men, on the ancient waterway, the Canadians, according to the record, assisted materially the operations carried out there. One of those voyageurs was the late "Big Bill" Galliher, who became a chief justice of British Columbia. But neither the government of any province nor that of Canada had anything to do with Candians, who were free agents, enlisting in Britain's service before Kruger and his Afrikanders challenged Britain to a trial of arms.

It was really the second phase of the Boer War in which the Canadians took part. That direct participation by Canada in the Mother Country's overseas affairs established the precedent, by the way, which made it a comparatively easy matter to follow in supplying an army when Great Britain, in order to maintain the sanctity of treaties, went to war with Germany in 1914. The baptism of fire which the Canadian contingent experienced in the Transvaal and Orange Free State was the prelude to participation in a much-enlarged conflagration which took four years to subdue.

EXPLOIT WAS BRILLIANT

Most brilliant exploit of the Canadians in South Africa was the affair of Paardeberg, in February of 1900, the engagement which resulted in the surrender of Cronje, one of Kruger's most able soldiers, on February 27. All picked men, that contingent must have been in fine condition on landing at Capetown. Its members needed to be; for there was little time spent in training after they got ashore. With a brief intensive exercising at nearby Green Camp, the Canadians, constantly drilling en route, were hurried up the line with all dispatch consistent with military practice of the time.

Reaching the Modder River at a place called Klip Drift one afternoon, according to some of those present, after the briefest of stops, and with two days' rations in their haversacks, the men of the Canadian contingent commenced a thirteen-hour march, arriving in the vicinity of Paardeberg early next morning. Noises of battle were heard nearby, and instead of being permitted to rest the weary infantrymen were ordered to a position on the southern side of Cronje's laager or entrenchments. This order was changed a short time later, and the Canadians had to cross the Modder River, about four feet deep there, to the northwest side of the Boer position.

Things began to move rapidly from then on. At 5:30 a.m. the contingent received the call to advance. The terrain was uneven with many large boulders in evidence, and would have made good cover for the advancing troops, but it was not until they had reached the rim of a slight ridge with the ground beyond sloping downward that the men from Canada appreciated the presence of the boulders. Directly in front and in good view was the Boer position under a grove of trees, from which the Mauser bullets pinged shrilly as soon as the advancing troops were observed.

BOULDER TO BOULDER

Dodging from boulder to boulder, the Canadians reached a position within a few hundred yards of the trees, bullets flying around them, and sometimes finding a khaki-clad figure. Another hundred-yard gain was made to the top of a slight intervening rise fringed with chaparral. All this advance occupied the greater part of the day. Lying out of sight behind the bush, at 4 o'clock the men were given the order to "fix bayonets." That meant they were to cross the clearing between the little ridge and the grove of trees and when the "charge" sounded and the men were on their feet racing toward the trees, artillerymen directed their fire at the Canadians while the Boer riflemen enfiladed them from the trees.

The marksmanship of the best riflemen in the world did not stop the Canadians that day at Paardeberg. Many fell in that last short charge but those who managed to keep on their feet that wild February evening reached the shelter of the trees and held on making the whole position of the Boers untenable. The next morning owing to the brilliant advance of the Canadians, and the penetration of his defences, the gallant Boer, Cronje, surrendered. News of Cronje's capture was hailed in Canada with due recognition, although the general exultation was saddened considerably because of the cost in lives—part of the price demanded in the welding of that victory. In the casualty lists reaching Ottawa following the Boer surrender on that morning of February 27, 1900 all parts of Canada were represented.

The anniversary is observed as Paardeberg Day.

Observation Car

By G.B.

A cost-of-living index is a list of numbers by means of which the Government attempts to prove high prices are not expensive . . . Rev. Dr. Peter Marshall, pastor of New York Avenue Church, Washington, D.C., stated during a recent address: "There are evil forces within our nation. Love of self, love of power [illegible] hearts of many. Our moral standards have been lowered, and no nation makes progress in a downward direction. Our nation is filled with people who are satiated with materialistic philosophies that fill our stomachs and starve our souls." . . . In 1934 Gen. Charles de Gaulle predicted the present war in a book entitled "The Army of the Future." He diagnosed weaknesses of the Maginot Line, pointed out that motorized transport has revolutionized warfare, and argued that armies should be built around mobile corps of highly-trained specialists. His book was derided in France but hailed by Germany as a masterpiece. . . . Glass bottle blowers for many years had an unwritten law that after a member had finished a bottle of beer it was his duty to smash it in order to provide employment. . . . Punctuality can be the art of guessing how late the boss is going to be. . . . A toast with a meaning: "There's many a good woman ruined, and many a good man, too, by someone starting a rumor, not a word of which is true. If ever you hear a rumor, about a man's or a woman's good name, just say it's a lie, and forget it, and never repeat it again." . . . Hess is reported to have complained about the way his fish was served. He should be grateful that as a war criminal he was not fed to the fishes. . . . The Tokio radio commented that the loss of Manila was of no military consequence. Will Goebbels say the same thing about Germany?

COOKS NEEDED

Sir,—Our Members of Parliament and the thinking people of our country are searching their brains for ways and means to rehabilitate our brave boys and girls who are returning from the battlefields of the world.

The writer would like to draw to the attention of our law makers now in session a forgotten calling. It is cooking. The writer was astounded on checking the statistics of the province to find that 4,623 people were employed as cooks, over 3,500 are Chinese. Would it not be a splendid idea to train our boys and girls in cooking? Let the Government give free courses in domestic science to our returned veterans and let us have properly cooked and prepared food, by trained men and women, and at the same time raise cooking from the most common job to the category of a profession, because surely the cooking and preparing of the food our people eat should be one of the highest callings.

After living in California for over a year, the writer would say the food in public eating places there is of a far higher standard than one finds in this province, because the cooking is mostly done by the American people and in most places by trained chefs.

Men and women are highly trained today in nearly every trade or profession but the cooking trade so let us lift this very important task up on a higher plane by training our cooks, give our returned men and women free courses on cooking and preparing food, and we shall have a much healthier people in British Columbia.

THE OTHER SIDE

Sir,—Re Mr. J. C. Lowe's plaintive query as to why people will not take children into their homes, I would suggest to him that if ever he has a house larger than his own need, to try having other people's children in it.

I have always been accustomed to children in my house, but when your walls are used for chalk boards, your mattresses ruined beyond further use, your good furniture scratched with pins, candle grease splashed on your overstuffed, gum to chisel off floors and whatever mess and perpetual disorder they create outside of their own quarters it's for the landlady to clean and clear up. And this is mildly stating the case. Here is one who will not try it any more.

MARY CURTIS

EARLY PAINTERS

Sir,—May I make a correction concerning the report in Sunday Colonist about my lecture on early art, "Impressionism Is Not Modern in Origin"?

In my lecture I tried to make it clearly understood that there were several distinct types of painting in prehistoric times, just as there are today.

Along the eastern coast of Spain a group of artists were striving to tell stories of the spirit of dancing and hunting by the use of curious and sometimes beautiful shapes. These impressionist artists used the mental conception rather than the visual conception.

While in Egypt another group of artists were striving to represent a body to give everlasting life to the spirit after death.

And in Northern Africa a group of artists were satisfied as long as the spectators understood what object was meant to be represented.

But the most important group the Paleolithic artists of France and Northern Spain, in spite of the dangers and setbacks of twenty thousand years ago, in spite of the necessity of hunting mammoths, bison, cave bears, etc., and of making their paint and tools, took time off, not merely to paint representations of animals for decoration or ritual purposes, but even in dark, obscure, difficult situations, in rough dark caves, these artists strove, with a vigorous sure technique, to express the life and character of the animals, as well as accurate bodily likenesses. It was this determined struggle of the Paleolithic artists of so long ago that makes one feel that there must be a tremendous force urging the human race to produce paintings.

Yarrows to Build Transport Ferry to Cost $1,600,000

Minister Howe announced tonight orders have been placed in Canada for an additional 17 transport ferries. This brings to 71 the number of these large naval ships ordered from Canadian yards. The new program is likely to cost approximately $27,000,000.

Specifications of the ships are still on the secret list, but it is understood they will cost approximately $1,600,000 each. Canada has so far launched 15 of these transport ferries and has made one delivery.

Orders for five of the additional transport ferries have been placed ver, four will be built by West Coast Shipbuilders, Vancouver; three each at Canadian Vickers, Montreal, and Davie Shipbuilding, Levis, Que.; two at North Van Ship Repairs, Vancouver and Marine Industries, Ltd., Sorel, Que., and one at Yarrows, Ltd., Victoria.

In the new program United Shipyards in Montreal will produce six ferries instead of nine originally ordered.

Mr. Howe announced also that an order has been placed with the Prince Rupert, B.C., Drydock and Shipyards for two China-coasters. These 1,350-ton cargo ships are 210 feet in length and draw 14 feet of water.

Canada is building 18 of these ships, all in West Coast yards. In addition, orders have been placed for a total of 20 350-ton coastal cargo vessels; these will be built in Eastern yards. No deliveries have yet been made on the 350 and 1,350-ton cargo ships.

Water Fails to Halt Canadians

The Nazis flooded the countryside in an attempt to slam the British-Canadian offensive that has bitten deep into Germany, but failed. The men of the Canadian First Army have been nicknamed "The Water Rats." Here is one, a military policeman, knee deep in swirling waters, waiting to direct traffic through the German village.

Canada's "Eskimo Forces" End Sub-Zero War Tests

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Feb. 26 (CP) —Toughened by six weeks in the open, to temperatures ranging to 50 below zero, the 1,750 men and officers of Canada's "Eskimo force" and their hundreds of vehicles, from jeeps to tanks, passed in review before Brig. G. A. H. Trudeau, officer commanding Military District No. 12, Sunday, to mark the completion of the international exercise in the fighting under sub-zero "dry cold" conditions.

Planes of the R.C.A.F. Army Co-operation Squadron, which participated in the exercise, roared overhead during the 40 minutes required for the long line of vehicles to pass the reviewing stand.

Symbolic of the international aspects of the exercise, representatives of the British and United States armies were on the reviewing stand. Britain was represented by Major T. W. Daniels, R.A., and Major A. Carryer. The United States was represented by Lt.-Col. K. G. Taylor, United States Artillery, and Lt.-Col. T. Tates, United States Signal Corps. Also on the stand were Lt.-Col. W. E. Macklin, E. D. Kitchener, chief of staff of the exercise, and Lt.-Col. E. A. Shearing, Montreal, A.A. and Q.M.G., commander of the Eskimo force. Col. D. C. Stephenson, former chief instructor of the School of Infantry at Vernon, B.C., rode with his force for the review.

Of the 1,500 men and N.C.O.'s, 80 per cent are N.R.M.A. personnel. It is stated they are slated for overseas service. Senior N.C.O.'s and key personnel were general service troops.

Several score of observers representing the United States Army and the British War Office participated in the exercise.

Sunday's return to Prince Albert completed a six weeks' tactical exercise to Lac la Ronge, 160 air miles north of Prince Albert, and back to the starting point. Including tactical deployments, about 600 miles were covered. For the six weeks the men had no shelters other than the special Winter tents prepared for the exercise.

Mechanical equipment put to the test included virtually every vehicle which possessed a potential useful role in Winter fighting. There were bulldozers, snowploughs and graders, in addition to wheeled vehicles of virtually every type and tracked vehicles from lumbering tanks to Bren gun carriers, weasels, and others specially designed for use on snow-covered terrain.

A considerable proportion of the mechanical equipment was contributed by Britain and the United States for a test of this equipment in the joint exercise, the most ambitious of its kind ever undertaken under dry cold Winter conditions by the participants.

The Eskimo exercise climaxed four years of experimenting in Winter fighting equipment by the Canadian Army, Air Force and Navy. What was learned from previous small scale trials was put to a test in use under conditions which simulated as closely as possible actual warfare conditions in sub-Arctic climes.

The force was organized on a skeleton brigade basis with all arms represented including the R.C.A.F. for the assault upon an imaginary enemy at Lac La Ronge. The aim was to obtain full information on the movement and tactical employment of a brigade working under command of a divisional headquarters. The information sought was declared to be essential should the armies concerned ever be called upon to fight under sub-zero dry cold conditions.

Brig. M. H. S. Penhale, C.B.E., Ottawa, deputy chief of the general staff, was director. Lt.-Col. Macklin was chief of staff and the deputy director was Col. W. M. Goforth, Ottawa, director of staff duties (weapons), general staff.

OTTAWA ANNOUNCES OPERATION EXTENSIVE

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 (CP) — Night treks in 50 below temperatures in Northern Saskatchewan with 1,750 airborne and ground troops engaged and live ammunition used in simulated battle conditions were part of the first of two Winter army exercises announced today by Defence Headquarters.

The exercises were described as the "most extensive undertakings of this nature ever attempted by the army in Canada."

The Saskatchewan "Eskimo" exercises, covering 370 miles on a round trip from a Prince Albert base, ended yesterday after six weeks and were designed to test the mobility of modern formations in undeveloped country during acute cold weather.

A British Columbia "polar bear" exercise, still continuing in the area between Williams Lake and Bella Coola, is similarly designed to test the movement of an all arms force in mountainous, wet, cold conditions which characterize a coastal region. Defence Headquarters said they could not give any indication as to ultimate use of the knowledge and training gained in the schemes but they announced "extensive co-operation" has been given in equipment and experts by Britain and the United States.

Only likely theatre of operations for use of such knowledge as gained in Northern Saskatchewan would be the interior of Northern China while conditions on the British Columbia Coast might be likened to those of German-occupied Norway.

The headquarter's announcement referred to peacetime benefits to the Canadian Northland, and added:

"The general benefits include the building and improvement of roads, the resultant changes that may be expected in design of vehicles, clothing and shelters and in the fields of medicine, dentistry, nutrition and hygiene."

The R.C.A.F. assumed the role of supply, dropping casualty evacuation, photo reconnaissance and forward airdrome maintenance in Northern Saskatchewan. Few details of the British Columbia scheme were given and no mention was made as to whether the navy was used on this coastal project.

AIRMEN RETURN

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 (CP) —Another group of repatriated airmen arrived at the repatriation depot at suburban Lachine today, and soon will be going forward to their homes across Canada after tours of duties overseas.

From September, 1939, to September 1944 the Canadian Pacific Railway Company transported 238 million tons of freight and 64 million passengers.

Warns Air Power Must Be Retained

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (CP) — Gen. H. H. Arnold warned today that the United States must maintain a powerful postwar air force because the next world aggressor will strike first at this country.

In his annual report, the chief of the army air forces declared the American planes must operate from large, strategically-located bases.

Other highlights of the report:

1. Most of the American airmen in Europe may go directly to the Pacific war when V-E Day arrives. Gen. Arnold said where possible they will be given leave to visit their homes, but the urgency of war may make the number of such leaves small.

2. The United States is working on three new types of giant bombers —the B-35, B-36 and B-42—"which we expect to be more powerful and capable than those now in operation." The biggest bomber now in use by the A.A.F. is the B-29 Superfortress.

3. The army has a new jet-propelled plane. Information on the latest type is withheld for security reasons.

4. A training bullet has been developed for hitting planes without damaging them. The 30-calibre plastic missile breaks on contact without penetrating metal as thin as one-eighth-inch dural plate.

Expect Thousands In B.C. After War

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26 (CP) —Citizens' Rehabilitation Council of Vancouver expects from 125,000 to 150,000 ex-servicemen to converge on British Columbia after total demobilization of the armed forces, council officials revealed today.

The fact that only 82,000 servicemen enlisted in this province emphasizes the magnitude of the West Coast's rehabilitation problem, A. P. Allison, retiring president of the council, said in a preview of the council's rehabilitation program.

Herring Season in B.C. Waters Ended

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26 (CP) —The herring season in British Columbia waters comes to an end tonight, and the fleet of approximately 45 large vessels engaged in this operation will head back to their respective home ports after a highly successful period of fishing.

Closure came as the result of discovery by fisheries officers that the herring in the vicinity of Laredo Channel, main fishing centre, and adjacent areas have begun to spawn. Previous closing date was March 10.

Fishing in the Laredo Channel region has been excellent in recent weeks, and it is believed that the 40,000-ton quota for the area will only be about 3,000 tons short of fulfillment by midnight tonight when operations must cease.

Abandon Attempts To Find Lost Men

All hopes of finding the bodies of two Victoria fishermen, Brian May and Harold Cain, whose wrecked fishing boat was found west of Port Angeles by the United States Coast Guard last week, have been abandoned.

George Cain, father of Harold, returned from Port Angeles, Sunday, and reported yesterday he was quite satisfied that the coast guard had done everything possible to locate the body of his son. Further search appeared hopeless, he added.

The 33-foot trolling vessel Cuna Chief, purchased jointly by the two men last December, was a total wreck, Mr. Cain reported. The coast guard had organized search parties, he explained, and combed 15 miles of shoreline on either side of the spot where the wreck had been found, 30 miles west of Port Angeles.

Harold, known to many of his parents at 102 Niagara Street, and Brian May resided at 225 Oswego Street. They had been missing since February 1.

Search for Killer

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 (CP) —Homicide squad detectives on double shifts worked today to discover the killer of nine-year-old Johnny Benson, who died at the hands of a "moral degenerate" on Mount Royal Saturday.

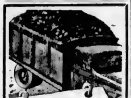

Four men picked up by police have been released after being held for questioning.

Young Benson died of loss of blood after a knife wound severed an artery in the groin. The wound was less than an inch wide and led detectives to believe that a small penknife or nail file was used.

A coroner's inquest was adjourned shortly after it opened today to allow police to continue their investigation.

The Continuing Job of the CANADIAN RED CROSS

THE EUROPEAN WAR is nearing its end. That is obvious. Many people, including members of the Canadian Red Cross, have asked us what our job will be if the war should suddenly end.

We reply that we can only see ahead greater responsibilities than ever. Both in Europe and at home the work of the Red Cross must go on. The war will not bring an end to suffering and want, to the care of our Prisoners of War, to our Wounded, and to the millions whose homes and ways of life have been dislocated by strife.

We therefore feel that every Canadian has a right to some knowledge of what our responsibilities will be in the event of peace, and just how we propose to discharge those responsibilities. We treat each of our main activities under its respective heading.

PRISONERS OF WAR—With the coming of peace our Prisoners of War will automatically cease to be Prisoners. Chaos and breakdown in Germany will probably ensue. The German state will cease to care for them. They will become wards of the Allied General in command of the Occupation Forces. Transportation will be difficult, and it will probably take a minimum of six months to repatriate the 2,400,000 Canadian, British and Allied Prisoners in German Camps. The need of Prisoners' Parcels and Medical Supplies will be doubled. They will be distributed by the Allied Command, and will play a vital part in feeding our men pending repatriation. After the magnificent job we have done during the last five years we cannot let our boys in German prison camps down. Our Prisoners in the Far East will also be a continuing responsibility. We must carry on until every man is back home.

EUROPE'S STARVING MILLIONS—The job of feeding Europe's hungry millions is staggering in its immensity. Over 17,000,000 humans have been torn from their homes. Many have nowhere to rest their weary heads. They are starving. Malnutrition is the rule rather than the exception. There will be an urgent need for food, clothing and medical supplies. The Red Cross in these stricken countries are utterly dependent on their sister societies for supplies to meet these dire needs. We cannot let them down! The Canadian Red Cross must go on!

RED CROSS WORK WITH OUR ARMED FORCES—Until the last Canadian soldier has left Europe and has been discharged from hospital, there will be important work for the Red Cross to do. How long this will be we do not know, but one thing we are certain of and that is that every Canadian at home will want to make sure that our boys will be as well looked after with the coming of peace as they were in war. The care of the wounded both in Europe and Canada is a permanent responsibility which we cannot evade. No Canadian wants to evade it. Here again the Red Cross must go on!

BLOOD SERUM SERVICE—Red Cross Blood Serum has saved countless lives in battle. The end of the war will see the end of painful war wounds. The demand for serum on the fighting fronts, except the Far East, will cease. But the Red Cross Blood Serum Service should be continued for civilian use. If the Red Cross makes it freely available it can save thousands of the lives of our own civilian citizens when war has ended.

OUTPOST HOSPITALS, CHILDREN'S CLINICS AND DISTRICT NURSING SERVICE—This is part of the Red Cross service to civilians in Canada. It is carried out in the sparsely settled parts of the Dominion, and it must go on.

FIRST AID AND HOME NURSING SERVICE—One of the finest peacetime activities of the Canadian Red Cross. It is truly a worth-while work and must go on.

TEACHING CANADIANS HOW TO BE BETTER NOURISHED—There is important work yet to be done in the matter of Nutrition. Thousands of Canadians are not eating the proper food. Their health could be improved immeasurably. The Canadian Red Cross has undertaken to educate where education is necessary. This work must go on.

PREPARATION TO MEET EPIDEMIC OR DISASTER—In case of these twin evils the Red Cross is always first on the job. For this reason alone the Red Cross must go on.

JUNIOR RED CROSS—A great crusade of 900,000 Canadian school children for health and good citizenship. A work that must go on.

Norman L. Wynter[?]
Chairman
National Executive Committee, Canadian Red Cross

The Queen and Princess Elizabeth Bid Farewell to the British Battleship King George V as She Left British Waters for the Battle of the Pacific.

Major Simon Talks on Future Of International Relations

"The Future, Through the Looking-Glass of Foreign Affairs" was the subject of a thought-provoking address given last night by Major John P. Simon before the Business and Professional Women's Club. Major Simon, secretary of the Victoria Branch, Institute of International Affairs, was guest speaker at a special International Day program, held in the clubrooms, View Street.

There is a growing realization that national interests must be made to fit into and further the interests of every nation in the world, the speaker stated.

"There can be no guarantee of peace until there is world citizenship, our individual loyalty to that citizenship must override our loyalty to the nation state," he declared.

An ageing form of society had not kept pace with the mechanical and economical growth, Major Simon told his audience. People now wanted a "world-wide Bill of Human Rights" and desired governments to live up to it. War intensified this feeling for world-wide political revolution while at the same time intensifying nationalism.

Discussing the strength and the weakness of the Dumbarton Oaks agreements, he pointed out that some important essentials were missing.

Military force was frowned upon, but economic coercion, equally dangerous, was not mentioned. It was this method that Germany had used against dependent nations in the earlier days of rule over the Continent.

"Economic aggression can be as fatal to liberty of a state as military," he said. "It has often been practised in the past."

DANGER IN HAVING PERMANENT MEMBERS

While the assembly of the proposed international body was representative, the council he stated would come under the control of the Big Five, Great Britain, United States, Russia, China, and later France. These were the only ones mentioned as permanent members.

Disagreeing with this, Major Simon pointed out that Brazil was larger and potentially richer than the United States and only 1,500 miles from the great rich continent of Africa. While the United States had almost reached its peak of production, Brazil was daily expanding. There was no index as to which nations would be most powerful in 50 years.

Major Simon also emphasized that there was a possibility of conflict for financial power between Great Britain and an expanding Russia, that Russia's mass production would bring her into conflict with the United States.

Disputes between nations, he added should be referred to a court of international justice manned by experts in international law, not to the council itself.

Mrs. J. Ingram Smith, president, introduced the speaker, and Miss Margaret Wightman moved the vote of thanks.

An interesting part of the meeting was the candle-lighting ceremony conducted by Mrs. Madge Hall, chairman, national programs committee, Canadian Federation, Business and Professional Women. Marking the liberation of France which would again be active a candle was lit next to the large white candle signifying eight countries already active in the federation.

Mr. Sidney G Pettit, chairman Victoria Branch, Institute of International Affairs, also spoke.

Guests included Mr E H Johnson, American vice-consul, and Mrs Johnson, Mrs Pettit, Mr. and Mrs E Kjekstad, representing Norway; Mrs G Yakimovich (Russia); Mrs Vladislaw Yanda (Czecho-Slovakia); Mme. L. O d'Estrube (France); Miss Lulu Metro (Greece); Miss Sempuran Kaur (East India) and Miss Anne Adamson, Zelotes Club.

Miss Pamela Gaze contributed national songs. Following the meeting refreshments were served when Miss Edith Parsell and Mrs Kate Farquharson poured tea.

Entertain C.W.A.C. Girls and Friends

Mrs. F. M Edwards, senior hostess of the Y.W.C.A. Canteen Peters House, Work Point Barracks, entertained at a joint tea for C.W.A.C. girls and male personnel of other services and friends at an At Home Sunday afternoon from 4 o'clock to 6.

Mrs C Johnson, also hostess at Peters House, and Miss J MacEwen, Y.M.C.A. supervisor, presided at the urns. Mrs J D Hunter, Victoria president of war services department of Y.W.C.A. and Mrs W J Wilson, liaison officer for Vancouver Island for the Y.W.C.A. were receiving guests.

About 250 guests were present, among whom were Capt Muriel Cooper, officer commanding, C.W.A.C., Lieut Hilda Butterfield, adjutant, Hon Major W G Hamilton and Hon Major A E Larke and Mr Laxton, Y.M.C.A. supervisor, recently returned from overseas.

The delightful tea was enjoyed in a charming home-like setting of candlelight and crackling logs in one of the rooms provided for the girls to receive and entertain guests at Peters House. The tables centred with Spring flowers were tastefully decorated with tall white tapers, gleaming silver and damask.

Tomorrow We Wear

handle bags—those with a handle just long enough to fit comfortably over your arm, for Spring. Soft bags to wear with dresses, and boxy or tailored bags for suits will be seen in bright and dark colors.

knee-pant suits for beach and play. Tailored jackets accompany those you'll wear for bicycling into town, while a top that bares your midriff will go with those for the beach.

dressmaker raincoats. They are of checked taffeta or satin-finished fabric that is water-repellent and are made with rounded shoulders, soft sleeves and collar and other features that keep them from looking severe.

a calot of flowers to wear with your Spring print or to enliven your dark sheer. The calot may be of flowers entirely or bordered with them.

pirate jewels—stone-studded daggers and swords. Some of them come out of the Victorian jewel box, but most of them are copies of old pieces.

more dark cotton dresses for Summer. New weaves and old ones too are being dyed to black, navy and bright but dark colors to make Summer street dresses.

more dresses and suit-dresses for afternoon. They're smart to wear now under coats, later without a wrap. Black is the favorite color, made on crisp lines, and color is often added in accessories.

Beatrice Fairfax

(Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

EXTRAVAGANT DOLL NOT FOR POOR MAN

Dear Mrs. Fairfax:

I'm just a poor chap with a medical discharge from the army, not making very much at the job I'm trying to master. Later on I hope to do better and have more spending money, but I just couldn't keep pace with the doll I fell for. She wanted [illegible] expensive present and when I'd gone into debt and borrowed from my folks to get her things, she never seemed satisfied that they weren't bigger and better.

Well, lady, one night I had a good dose of common sense. She was asking for an expensive piece of jewelry for Christmas; she might as well have asked for the moon, and I up and told her to get some guy with a fat war contract, that the only premiums I could afford weren't much above the suds class. So we haven't seen each other since. I'd like to make up. I hear in a roundabout way she said I'd been a lesson to her. Shall I tell her the break was economic and my heart is still true? C.B.I.

Your convenient break was not only timely but advantageous. Even if this avaricious young woman is willing to make up with you, I doubt if she cares enough for you to make the reconciliation anything but a source of unhappiness on your side. She belongs distinctly to the "gimme" type and when she can't get diamonds is willing to take what you amusingly call "suds premium."

SHOULD SHE TAKE HIM BACK

Dear Miss Fairfax:

A young man and I went together eight years, four of which we were engaged. We even had the date announced in church, but we never were married. I heard he was going out with someone else, so I broke the engagement.

C. entered the service and whenever he came home, spent his time with the other girl and finally married her. A few months afterward he was divorced, saying it was all a mistake and that he married her only because of obligation. He wants me to take him back.

Please give me your advice. I'll do just as you say. I am now 26, he is 28, and we have been apart for three years. I can't seem to care for anyone else, and he says he wants me. S.G.

Your letter, which is too long to print, shows you've always been faithful and really loved C. to whom you were engaged for four years. Meanwhile, he's not been faithful to you, got himself mixed up with another girl, was obliged to marry her, is now divorced and free to marry you if you will consent.

At 26 and 28 years of age you should both know your minds. Sometimes people, after going through such an experience as you have had, settle down into a happy marriage. But—you tell me that you could never forget the pain C.'s infidelity has caused you. If you can't wholeheartedly forgive and forget, it would be a grave mistake to marry.

A second consideration—is he paying alimony to his former wife? Does he have to support the child? Would such a division of income prove a hardship, as it does in other second marriages with dependents to consider?

BIRMINGHAM, England (CP)—Laurence P Hadley, 69, editor of The Birmingham Post, died recently.

Entertainment Honors Distinguished Guests

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. W. C. Woodward entertained at an "after-five" Monday afternoon at Government House, in honor of Mr Jackson Dodds, C.B.E., chairman of the Central Council of the Canadian Red Cross Society, and Mrs. Dodds, who arrived in Victoria last week-end.

Spring flowers decorated the rooms, and forty guests were present, including Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the campaign committee, and Lady Drayton, W. Morton Paterson, president of the Victoria City and District branch of the Canadian Red Cross, and members of the executive committee. Lt.-Cmdr Hew Paterson acted as aide-de-camp to the Lieutenant-Governor.

Triplets Celebrate First Birthday

HEANOR, Derbyshire, Feb. 26 (AP).—Last February 27 this little mining town was watching the progress of quadruplets born to a 23-year-old British woman and a young American soldier. The Heanor quads were headline news over half the world.

Now, a year later, the three surviving babies will spend their first birthday visiting their aunt, Lillian Hardy, at nearby Breaston. Their mother and granny will be with them. But their father is in France, while Mrs Hardy's husband also is serving overseas.

There is a cake, with three candles and the names Madeleine, Maureen and Michael.

When Staff-Sgt William Thompson, Pittsburgh, Pa., announced in London that he was the father of Norah Carpenter's quadruplets, he said he wished to support her and the babies from that day onward. He said they were not married but hoped to be if his wife would divorce him. Meantime, he said, they would "stick together and do all we can for the children."

In the little kitchen at the home of Norah's father and mother the three babies show every evidence of loving care.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges Will Give Greeting

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., will extend a hearty welcome and advice on Canadian citizenship to the overseas wives who have recently arrived in Victoria at the second meeting of a series of classes for the newcomers, Wednesday at 2 o'clock in the B.C. Electric Railway showroom on Douglas Street.

Children will be cared for on the premises by Victoria College students, who have volunteered to look [illegible] tion of a matron.

Japanese Resolution

NANAIMO, Feb. 26 — Nanaimo City Council did not endorse a resolution from Kelowna urging that all Japanese be repatriated to Japan Mayor George Muir asked that his dissenting vote to the council's action be recorded. "As far as I am concerned a Jap is a Jap," Mayor Muir declared He expressed the opinion that a wrong impression might be created by the council's policy in the matter.

Alderman Ross thought the resolution should be tabled until after the forthcoming election, as he considered the Japanese question was being made a political football. Alderman Daniel Campbell was opposed to the Japanese returning to industry or congregating, but he thought it useless to pass the resolution when the Dominion Government had a set policy.

Iwo Front

Enemy resistance was stiff, as it was all last week in the fight for this field, also known as Motoyama No. 2. Heavy fighting raged throughout the day said a communique early Monday (Sunday night, North American time).

The island's largest and most important airdrome was captured early last week. It is large enough to accommodate the heaviest bombers in their raids on the Japanese homeland.

The last report from headquarters on the situation at the southern end of the island, issued Sunday, said mopping up continued on Mount Suribachi, the extinct volcano which the marines controlled after days of blasting the enemy from cavernous pillboxes, crevices and volcanic recesses.

A claim that Suribachi had been recaptured Saturday, "after a terrific counter-attack," was made by the Tokio radio Monday in a propaganda dispatch in English to the American zone.

This was the first admission by the enemy that he had lost Suribachi, highest point on tiny Iwo. Only Sunday, Tokio press and radio accounts said their forces still held their main positions on Iwo, "including Mount Suribachi"

An earlier enemy broadcast Monday said the Americans were "fast consolidating" their hold on the southern and western shores of the island "despite a mounting toll in casualties"

There has been no report on American casualties by headquarters since the estimate of last week that the total was 5,373 as of 6 p.m February 21. That included 644 dead

A new total of Japanese dead, however, placed the figure at 3,627 by noon, Sunday. This actual count of the number of Japanese killed of an original garrison of about 20,000 was announced Monday

Americans battling for strategic Iwo, which is within 750 miles of Tokio, had the support of another big carrier raid on the Tokio district, co-ordinated with an attack on the same area by B-29's from the Marianas

ticle 21 of the Montreux Convention will automatically go into operation and Allied warships will consequently be free to pass through the Dardanelles, subject to formal permission by the Turkish Government.

A new trade and financial treaty is to be made with the United Kingdom The former financial agreement contained a clause providing that ten per cent of the value of all British purchases in Turkey may be converted by the Turkish Government into gold and deposited in Ottawa. Under the new agreement this provision will have to be revised

Dealing with the assassination of the Egyptian Premier, Ahmed Maher Pasha, The Times says he was a consistent friend of Britain over many years Despite complicated domestic feuds the Egyptian political parties have been constant to the British alliance throughout the darkest days of the war.

The Government rendered indispensable aid when British forces were fighting against great odds to prevent the Axis from breaking through to the Suez Canal and the Indian Ocean.

The Government's desire to convert its previous co-operation into full belligerency was determined by a desire to participate in the San Francisco Conference, where the structure of the postwar world will be defined.

Council Proposes Budget Meetings

School board estimates of $501,930, a police commission budget of $143,524, and Victoria Public Library estimates of $35,492 will be discussed by aldermen, trustees and commissioners, the City Council decided yesterday on motion of Alderman Edward Williams.

A request of the Council of Social Agencies for a grant of $1,000 was referred to the estimates committee. Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter reported that sale of 40 lots on Shelbourne Street was held up by lack of drainage facilities which would cost $1,500. The public works committee promised to investigate.

Nineteen lots were sold for a total of $5,105. A lands committee recommendation to sell a lot on Craigdarroch Road for $500 was tabled until a meeting with the school board. It was decided to form a committee of the Mayor and chairmen of the public works committee, water board and electric light committee to discuss repairs and maintenance work.

Aldermen approved an agreement with Esquimalt to provide fire protection to the Western Match Co., Ltd. Forrest L. Shaw, city solicitor, was asked to prepare a brief for the Union of British Columbia Municipalities on the problem of municipalities' responsibility for unmarried mothers

Alderman Williams stated he would report at the next meeting on a new contract for garbage disposal A by-law to set an annual fee of $20 for coin-operated gramophones was passed, with Aldermen Burges J. Gadsden and W. H Davies casting negative votes.

It was agreed that Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt should share the cost of any proposed contour survey of Gordon Head recommended by Greater Victoria Airport Committee

Dies in Hospital

Arthur Leopold Taylor, 80, for 15 years secretary of the Union Club, died at the Royal Jubilee Hospital last night after a lengthy illness.

Born in Westbourne, Little Bolton, Lancashire, England, he came to Canada in 1912 For several years he was employed in Seattle and Vancouver as an accountant, and during the last war was manager of the Qualicum Beach Hotel. Mr. Taylor was secretary of the Union Club from 1927 to 1942, but illness forced his retirement.

He is survived by two sons, Edward Leigh Taylor and David William Taylor, both of White Rock, and two brothers and a sister in England.

Pan-American Union May Include Canada

MEXICO CITY, Feb 26 (AP) — The Inter-American Conference here took up today a proposal to invite Canada into the Pan-American system

The United States will thus be forced to take a position on Canada's entrance into the Pan-American Union

Main difficulty is Canada's status as a Dominion in the British Commonwealth, as it seems assured that the invitation will provide that Canada must stand in the Americas on an equal status with the other countries.

MOMBASA, Kenya (CP) — The Kenya Government estimates that about 400 European men will require agricultural training in the colony after the war.

Great Northern Calls for Bonds

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 26 (AP).—F. J. Gavin, president of the Great Northern Railway, today invited holders of four different series of the company's general mortgage bonds to sell them to the company.

Issues involved include Series B 5½'s, C 5s, D 4½'s, and E 4½'s. Holders are requested to submit their tenders for sale to the company's agent, the First National Bank of the City of New York, before March 14. Mr. Gavin emphasized that the company reserves the right to reject any or all tenders.

He said the Great Northern plans to retire the bonds purchased.

Montreal Stocks

Your Daily Forecast

By EDWARD A. WAGNER

PLANETARY GUIDE FOR TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1945

Keywords for the day: Conventionality, practicality.

Tuesday in General: Proceed along regular and conventional lines on Tuesday. A great deal of energy is generated today which can be used constructively, provided one is poised and keeps things under control. This is not a time to plunge into anything precipitantly; be cautious in transit, in connection with electrical or mechanical devices, those in positions of authority.

If February 27 Is Your Birthdate: "Many happy returns." Famous persons born on this date include: Joan Bennett, movie actress; Franchot Tone, movie actor; Henry W. Longfellow, poet; David Sarnoff, head of R.C.A.

Your Year Ahead: This should be a stimulating and exciting year and the element of change and surprise is strong. Be content to permit events to transpire naturally, and don't force issues.

Released by Consolidated News Features, Inc.

LONDON (CP).—Victory garden fetes and displays staged by amateur gardeners and allotment cultivators produced £440,000 ($1,980,000) last year for the Red Cross Agriculture Fund.

GENEROUS HONDURANS

BELIZE (CP).—British Honduras, which has a population of approximately 60,000 people, has contributed $46,300 to the British Red Cross and St. John Fund since the outbreak of the war.

LONDON (CP).—The Royal Aeronautical Society council has completed arrangements for founding a "British Empire Lecture" on approved aeronautical subjects, to be given annually here.

SPORTS SLANTS

By SID THOMAS

CAGE TOURNAMENT WAS HUGE SUCCESS

Victoria's first invitational international basketball is history. Staged under the joint sponsorship of the Kinsmen Club and the Victoria and District Basketball League the promotion, one of the largest of its kind attempted here in years, was an outstanding success.

Credit for organizing and planning such a major sports attraction must go to the members of the joint committee, all of whom carried out their arduous tasks with the greatest efficiency. Forerunner of things to come, the tournament no doubt provided the promoters with new ideas for bigger and better tournaments in the future.

The tournament proved that Victorians will support top-flight sports attractions, and the success achieved in the initial effort should be an incentive for making the event an annual affair.

More than 3,500 people wended their way to the Willows during the two nights of play, and the large crowd on hand Saturday certainly thrilled to the superb casaba exhibition turned in by Fort Lewis Warriors and Seattle Alpine Dairy.

Pat Bay Gremlins, Western Canadian champions, were unfortunate in losing the services of George "Porky" Andrews, one of their star performers, through illness. It might have been a slightly different story if the starry former University of Oregon hoopster had been available for the two nights' play.

GATHERED FROM HERE AND THERE

Frank Dotten, well-known to Victoria hockey fans as playing manager of the C.P.A.L. sextette during the days of the old Intercity League and now prominently associated with the Seattle Ironmen of the Pacific Coast League, probably received quite a jolt from the announcement that the Allan Cup playoffs will not be held this year. From where we sit it looked as if the clever Mr. Dotten was building for a fling at the historic trophy, judging by the number of smart hockey players he has been gathering up in recent weeks. Latest well-known blade artist to join the Seattle Ironmen is none other than Bernie Strongman, former star of the Royal Canadian Navy squad here in the days of the Willows Arena . . . Frankie Slogar, stellar fullback of Manager "Jock" McColl's V.M.D. footballers, is with the Canadian Army in France and is right up in the front line. In a letter to McColl last week, Slogar said he had been in contact with Tantrum, former Cumberland soccer player, and Ty Conti, formerly with the Victoria Army . . . Trevor Harvey, popular Vancouver soccer star, who played here with the V.M.D., is a proud pappy. His wife presented him with a baby daughter about two weeks ago. Writing to a friend here, Trev said: "Naturally I was a little disappointed at not getting a football player but the little girl is so cute I just must let her stick around." . . . It was just about seven years ago that Babe Ruth, "Sultan of Swat," after being with the Yankees for 15 years, signed a three-year contract with the Boston Braves as a player, assistant manager and second vice-president. He was given his unconditional release four months later after some differences with the club's executive . . . Kimberley Dynamiters were crowned amateur hockey champions of the world when they won a 2-1 overtime victory over a Swiss team at London eight years ago today. England, Olympic titleholder and previously beaten 3-0 by Dynamiters, clinched second place with a 5-0 defeat of Germany.

Nanaimo Clippers Win League Title

Defeat Vancouver, 8-4, in Final P.C.J.H.L. Game on Mainland Ice—N. Kirk Top Scorer

LEAGUE STANDINGS

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Nanaimo | 15 | 13 | 1 | 130 | 130 | 31 |
| Westminster | 13 | 18 | 0 | 106 | 109 | 28 |
| Vancouver | 11 | 13 | 1 | 117 | 114 | 23 |

Last night's score: Nanaimo 8, Vancouver 4.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26 (CP).—Nanaimo Clippers clinched first place in the Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League by downing Vancouver Arrows, 8-4, here tonight. It was the last showing of Clippers here until the play-offs.

The loss was Vancouver's eighth consecutive loss and leaves them in the cellar spot in the three-team circuit. New Westminster Cubs are in second place.

Normie Kirk led the Islanders with three goals and Ron Koehle and Jim Mailey each netted two. Les Mitchell got the other goal. Roy Pinder and Ernie Dougherty each scored two for Vancouver.

Clippers, led by the Kirk brothers, got away to a 2-0 lead early in the first period before Pinder found the mark. However, the Islanders held off all feeble efforts by the Arrows to score again in the stanza, while they rattled in three more goals to go into the middle session with a 5-1 advantage. Les Mitchell scored Nanaimo's fifth goal in the last minute of play on a pass from Arnold Johnson, while Koehle and Pinder were serving minor penalties.

Arrows came to life in the second period and played some of the best hockey of the season as they held the Nanaimo sextette scoreless, while breaching Arnold Ellis' cage twice. Pinder drove in his second goal of the game after the halfway mark and Dougherty scored the other marker on a pass from Pete Urchenko.

Coming to life in the third period, Clippers raced into an 8-3 lead before Dougherty counted the last goal for Vancouver. Normie Kirk started the scoring parade for Nanaimo and Mailey added the other two.

SUMMARY

First Period—1, Nanaimo, Koehle (N. Kirk), 1:30; 2, Nanaimo, N. Kirk (J. Kirk), 2:03; 3, Vancouver, Pinder (Hupfe), 6:15; 4, Nanaimo, Koehle (Pasquello), 11:15; 5, Nanaimo, N. Kirk, 17:20; 6, Nanaimo, Mitchell (Johnson), 19:20. Penalties: Urchenko, Koehle (2), Pinder.

Second Period—7, Vancouver, Pinder (Somerton, Urchenko), 9:55; 8, Vancouver, Dougherty (Urchenko), 12:17. Penalty: Woodside.

Third Period—9, Nanaimo, N. Kirk (Koehle), 2:35; 10, Nanaimo, Mailey (N. Kirk), 6:27; 11, Nanaimo, Mailey, 12:55; 12, Vancouver, Dougherty (McBeth, Dalzell), 19:55. Penalty: Magliani, Gilmour.

Comets and K.V.'s Annex Cage Honors

Last night's scores:
Comets 26, Eaglettes 26.
St. Louis College 18, K.V.'s 22.
West Road 35, Hillcrest Fuel 21.
Tomorrow's games:
7:00—Hudson's Bay vs. Rookies.
8:00—St. Louis College vs. K.V.'s.
9:00—Tommy Tuckers vs. United Services.

Comets, intermediate "B" girls' cage squad, and St. Louis College junior boys' hoopsters annexed city championships, and West Road hoopmen took a 14-point lead over Hillcrest Fuel in the senior "C" men's section of the Victoria and District Basketball League, in play-off features last night at the High School gymnasium.

Comets were held to a 26-26 stalemate by the Eaglettes, but their nine-point margin of victory in the opening play-off contest last week carried them through to the title.

Eaglettes, sparked by E. Barry, who pushed up 17 points, fought hard to overcome their opponents' lead and after dropping five points behind in the first half managed to tie up the ball game.

Half-time score was 13-8 for the Comets, but in the final stanza Eaglettes outscored the new city champions 18-13.

F. Hunt with eight points and T. Whyte with seven were top snipers for the winners.

K.V.'s and St. Louis College, bitter rivals for supremacy in minor basketball circles, staged another of their ding-dong exhibitions, with the Collegians finally falling short by four points.

K.V.'s showed in front, 12-7 at half-time.

With R. Benn and F. Butler racking up 14 and 12 points, respectively, West Road cagers turned back Hillcrest Fuel, 35-21, in the first game of the senior "C" men play-downs.

THREE FIXTURES CARDED TOMORROW

Another triple program, featuring the first game of the senior "B" men's play-offs in the finale, will be presented tomorrow evening at the Victoria High School gymnasium.

Rookies and Hudson's Bay, women's quintettes, hook up in the opener at 7 o'clock, followed one hour later by St. Louis College and K.V.'s in the first game of the semi-final city play-downs in the intermediate "B" boys section.

Tommy Tuckers and United Services swing into action at 9 o'clock in the first game of their total-point senior "B" men's play-downs.

Tomorrow evening at the Y.M.C.A. K.V.'s and St. Louis College midget boys' clubs will meet in a play-off game at 7:30 o'clock.

Officials: G. Harknett and G. Moore.

Teams and scores:

Comets: McDonald 4, J. Bradshaw, J. Hobbins, D. Bradshaw 2, F. Hunt 8, O. Mair 1, J. House 2, T. Whyte 7 and M. Alexander 2. Total, 26.

Eaglettes: E. Barry 17, R. Kaltenbach 2, J. Simpson 2, H. Pettigrew 1, P. Yeamans 3, N. Burnett 1 and D. Vallance. Total, 26.

St. Louis College: O'Brien, Glancy 3, French, B. Clarkson 1, O'Neil, Anderson 2, Ireland 4 and Monaghan 8. Total, 18.

K.V.'s: Pauls 4, Minns, Griffin, McKinnon 2, Mar, Leung 4, Covey, John 4, Clark 4 and Weaver 4. Total, 22.

West Road: R. Benn 14, B. Benn 2, Butler 12, Sluggett 5, Dunn, Aspinal 3 and W. Butler. Total, 35.

Hillcrest Fuel: Baugh 7, Juget 4, Harbers 4, Spoony, Sarban 2 and Arjin 4. Total, 21.

Renewing Old Ring Acquaintance

While Jack Dempsey, right, now a commander in the coast guard, takes a feel of Tom Gibbons' muscle, Tommy makes a playful jab at the chin of the erstwhile heavyweight champion. The two men met in Jack's restaurant in New York and talked over old ring days, especially July 4, 1923, the date when the two met in Shelby, Montana, for Jack's title. They went 15 rounds and Jack won the decision, but he said he had never seen so many left jabs in one fight before.

Returns to Ice

EDDIE OATMAN

Who played in the Stanley Cup finals the year the Victoria Cougars won the world's championship, was right in with the boys at the Maroons-Leafs charity game. Oatman, 56, was rated as one of the best right wings of his day and once played with Montreal Wanderers.

Midget Hockey Team To Play at Nanaimo

Vancouver Island play-downs in the midget division of the B.C.A.H.A. will be held at Nanaimo tonight and tomorrow with Victoria opposing the Up-Islanders in a two-game total-point series.

Winner of the Nanaimo-Victoria series will meet New Westminster in the Coast final.

Ivan Temple announced the following players will make the trip: Whittingham, Aitken, Stone, Olson, Craven, Bertrand, Fawcett, Keating, Gilaney, Payne, Rennie, Curran, Main, Hume and West. The players to strip the first night will be named in the dressing-room.

Make Recommendations For Game Seasons Here

Sportsmen Gather at Important Meeting at Chamber of Commerce—Bag Limits Unchanged

At one of the best-attended meetings in recent years, the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association met last night in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium to recommend hunting dates and bag limits. The proposals will be forwarded to the Game Commission.

Deer hunting season was set from September 15 to November 25, after a motion to shorten the season had been defeated. A motion to prohibit the use of shotguns in hunting deer was also defeated.

Dates on duck shooting for 1945-46 were set from November 3 to January 31, on a motion from the floor suggesting a later closing date because it was felt that lack of water in lakes and streams was the contributing factor in the poor duck season last year, in spite of the fact that ducks were more plentiful than ever.

Blue grouse season was set from September 15 to October 14, and a motion was passed permitting the use of rifles in shooting blue grouse. After considerable discussion on the merits of having the willow grouse season coincide with the blue grouse season due to the difficulty of telling them apart, it was decided that the willow grouse season would be from October 6 to October 21.

Open season on pheasants was set from noon on October 13 to November 15 and it was decided that quail hunting should remain closed for another season.

Bag limits in all cases were left the same as last year, and seasons for other birds will also remain the same as 1944. The meeting further [illegible] endorsed a motion prohibiting the use of salmon roe.

Plans were laid for a strong membership drive for the year under the chairmanship of Ray Ritchie with the object of forming the strongest possible association in order to increase and abet the work of the group.

C. R. D. Ferris and R. I. Colby of the British Columbia Government Travel Bureau gave a showing of a film taken in the E. C. Manning Park, situated on the Port Hope-Princeton highway approximately 40 miles south of Princeton. Manning Park revealed a panorama of scenic beauty and grandeur, bearing out the commentator's remarks that it might yet prove to be the most popular park in the province.

Elected to the committee for the year were J. Skelton, T. Dicks, J. Stevenson, H. Luney, M. Thom, R. Nes, H. Alymer, M. Grossman, T. D. Roberts, O. R. Baird, Stan Ross, C. W. Burt, R. Watson, L. Freer, Ray Ritchie, Jim Dalziel, Dr. C. W. Duck, Dr. Owen Lodge and Tom Lumsden. Finance committee elected were W. Christopher and J. King. Audit committee, B. Jenkins and E. McConnan.

Juvenile Soccer

Esquimalt defeated Mount View, 3-2, in a First Division juvenile soccer fixture played yesterday at Bullen Park.

St. Louis College blanked James Bay Tigers, 3-0, in a Fourth Division game played Sunday at Heywood Avenue.

James Bay Combines and Blue Line, Third Division teams, will meet at Victoria West tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, and Wednesday's Third Division match between Gorge Aces and Black and Whites has been set back to Thursday.

Entries for the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association championships will close on Tuesday, March 6. Entry fees for these competitions and the knockout cup should be in the hands of the secretary by that date.

TOPPERS BEATEN

Toppers, First Division juvenile soccer club, suffered a 1-0 defeat at the hands of a Nanaimo juvenile club on the grounds of the Up-Island eleven Sunday afternoon in an exhibition match played as a preliminary to the Nanaimo-Varsity senior engagement. The senior match ended in a 3-3 draw.

KILLED IN BLAST

PARIS, Feb. 26 (AP).—Agence Francaise de Presse reported tonight that a munitions dump explosion in Western France had killed 20 persons and injured 30. It said sparks from a truck caused the blast.

Civic Arena Act Before Assembly

Victoria Civic Arena Act was introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Public Works. An act to amend the City of Vancouver charter was also introduced by Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C.

The Civic Arena Act proposed to give the City Council power to establish a board of commissioners, consisting of five residents or ratepayers who are not members of the council, to vest in that board the management of the arena; to define powers and duties and regulate meetings of the board, and to empower the board to collect charges for the arena.

Provision is made for the council to defray costs if arena revenues should be insufficient.

Malone Says Richard Is Fine Player

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 (CP).—Take it from Joe Malone, whose scoring record he smashed last night, Maurice Richard, of Montreal Canadiens, "has everything, and in any era would have been a fine player."

Malone who was among the first to congratulate "The Rocket" last night when he went one goal past the 44 piled up by Malone in 1918, said in a by-lined article in The Montreal Star today that Richard "is one of those players that comes along every once in a while, and I hope he goes on to even greater feats."

"Of course he has fine line mates, but I think he would help even two mediocre assistants. There isn't any doubt of his class . . ."

"Ever since he became such a talked about player I have followed his career with interest," wrote Malone. "Last year I saw him play several times. I noticed he used a rising shot to considerable advantage.

"This year I notice he is mixing them up with a great change of pace coming in on the defence. He comes in swinging and he reminds me of Jack Darragh, of the old Ottawa Senators, probably one of the greatest but most overlooked wings of all time . . ."

High School XV's Play Tomorrow in Cup Rugby Series

Oak Bay High School roggers will open their 1945 defence of the Howard Russell Cup tomorrow afternoon at Windsor Park when they battle Victoria High School in the first game of the best-of-three series. Game time is 3:45 o'clock.

Victoria College, Intermediate Rugby League champions, will cross to Vancouver this week-end to oppose the University of British Columbia XV in an exhibition match.

At Macdonald Park this Saturday, Naval College Seniors will play an exhibition match with the United Services. The kick-off will be at 2:30 o'clock.

Tentative plans call for a Cowichan Trophy fixture on Saturday, March 17, between Naval College Seniors and Victoria College.

OAK BAY GOLF

Finals in the monthly competition play-offs were held Sunday at the Victoria Golf Club, with W. R. Leach defeating E. D. Todd and R. F. Hayne.

G. P. Melrose and G. A. Stokes won the greensome handicap sweepstake played during the week-end with C. G. Heisterman and H. A. Tomalin as runner-up.

Sunday's scores:
Canadiens 5, Toronto 2.
Rangers 4, Boston 4.
Detroit 3, Chicago 1.

Tonight's game: Chicago at Toronto.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP).—Hank Goldup's second goal of the game, late in the final period, earned New York Rangers a 4-4 tie with Boston Bruins Sunday night and kept alive their National Hockey League play-off chances. The tie enabled the Bruins to retain their one-point edge on the New Yorkers.

SUMMARY

First Period—1, New York, Hill, 3:45; 2, New York, Goldup (Demarco), 16:04; 3, Boston, Cowley (Egan), 17:25. Penalty: Thurier.

Second Period—4, Boston, McGill, 14:30; 5, New York, Hunt (Heller), 19:27.

Third Period—6, Boston, McGill (Egan), 5:05; 7, Boston, Gaudreault (Rossini), 8:08; 8, New York, Goldup (Warwick, Hunt), 15:28. Penalties: Goldup, Jennings (2) (one major).

RICHARD SETS SCORING RECORD

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 (CP).—Montreal Canadiens defeated Toronto Maple Leafs, 5-2, in a National Hockey League game here Sunday night, but the thing that mattered for a record of 12,961 fans was that Maurice Richard bagged his 45th goal of the season to establish an all-time record.

The goal enabled Richard to pass the 44 chalked up by Joe Malone, of Canadiens, back in 1918. He got it with less than three minutes to go.

The pandemonium that broke loose then far surpassed anything when Canadiens took the Stanley Cup final game a year ago. Richard got a six-minute ovation, mingled with a shower of paper that held up the game almost ten minutes. And he got the puck with which he scored the goal, presented to him at the box by Malone himself.

SUMMARY

First Period—1, Montreal, O'Connor (Eddolls, Gauthier), 8:32. Penalties: Davidson, Fillion, Lach, Bodnar.

Second Period—2, Toronto, Metz (Pratt), 4:50; 3, Montreal, Bouchard (O'Connor), 6:54; 4, Montreal, Blake (Lach, Bouchard), 7:09. Penalties: Hamilton (major), Blake (major), Davidson, Richard, Hamilton, Pratt, Carr (major), Gauthier (major), Mosdell.

Third Period—5, Toronto, Pratt, 4:24; 6, Montreal, Lach (Blake), 10:03; 7, Montreal, Richard (Blake), 17:18. Penalties: Eddolls, Davidson, Gelliffe, Lamoureux (two minors and ten-minute misconduct), O'Neill (minor and misconduct).

BLACK HAWKS BEATEN BY WINGS

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 (AP).—Chicago Black Hawks' hopes of gaining a berth in the Stanley Cup play-offs of the National Hockey League were jolted here Sunday as Detroit Red Wings handed them their second straight setback, 3-1, before 15,308 fans in the Chicago Stadium.

The Chicagoans now are seven points behind the fourth-place Boston and six behind fifth-place New York, with but nine more games on their schedule.

SUMMARY

First Period—No score.

Second Period—1, Chicago, Horeck (March), 8:28; 2, Detroit, Carveth, 13:06. Penalties: Seibert, Harms.

Third Period—3, Detroit, Carveth (Wochy), 10:01; 4, Detroit, Seibert, 18:46. Penalty: Liscombe.

The actors in the ancient Roman theatre were sometimes slaves whom the manager owned.

Bernie Strongman Joins Seattle Club

SEATTLE, Feb. 26 (AP).—When the Seattle Ironmen square off against the Vancouver Vanguards here Sunday, the Northwest leaders of the Pacific Coast Hockey League will introduce to hockey fans the last two new faces they will meet this year.

The Ironmen announced today the two late-comers were Forwards Bernie Strongman and Frank Sullivan, both prominent Canadian amateurs.

Lach Takes Over Lead in Scoring

Elmer Lach, Canadiens, gathered two points as the Flying Frenchmen defeated Toronto Maple Leafs, 5-2, Sunday and moved into the lead in the National Hockey League scoring race. Lach was one point ahead of his teammate Maurice Richard, whose single goal in the same game established an all-time total-goal record of 45. Toe Blake, also of Canadiens, picked up three points to move into a third-place tie with Bill Cowley, of Boston.

Ab Demarco, New York, with three points in two week-end games, took over sixth place, one point behind Syd Howe, Detroit.

| THE LEADERS | G. | A. | Pt. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Lach, Canadiens | 21 | 46 | 67 |
| Richard, Canadiens | 45 | 21 | 66 |
| Blake, Canadiens | 24 | 33 | 57 |
| Cowley, Boston | 23 | 34 | [illegible] |
| Howe, Detroit | 15 | 33 | 48 |
| Demarco, Rangers | 21 | 26 | 47 |
| Kennedy, Toronto | 23 | 20 | 43 |

GORGE VALE GOLF CLUB

Leading scorers in the Cadet Theatre Cup two-ball foursome, played Sunday at the Gorge Vale Golf Club, were: J. Clark and L. Topham, 74; [illegible] Howard and H. Hendrie, 76; I. Orman and J. D. Kerton, [illegible]; D. Moo and W. Neilson, 76; J. Kennedy and Bert Snape, 77, and H. Ashton and J. Corkle, 77.

Argentina Not Likely to Join

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 26 (AP).—Col. Juan Peron, vice-president of Argentina, declared today he desired the restoration of cordial relations with the United States and Russia, but said the possibility was unlikely that his country would find loitering Germany's behavior sufficient cause to declare war against the Nazis.

In an interview Col. Peron asserted that a sudden declaration of war against Germany "on grounds perhaps insufficient, tardily recognized and opportunistic would alienate our friends in this country and other American republics and give our foes an opportunity to heap scorn upon us."

By J. V. McAREE

SEVERAL years before his death the late Sir William Mulock made one of his most eloquent speeches. In the course of it he said: "I am still at work, with my hand to the plough, and my face to the future. The shadows of evening lengthen about me but morning is in my heart. I have lived from the 40's of one century to the 30's of the next. I have varied fields of labor and I still contact with men and things and have warmed both hands before the fire of life. The testimony I bear is this: That the Castle of Enchantment is not behind me. It is before me still, and daily I catch glimpses of its battlements and towers. The rich spoils of memory are mine. Mine, too, are the precious things of today—books, flowers, pictures, nature and sport. The first of May is still an enchanted day for me. The best thing of all is friends. The best of life is always further on. Its real lure hidden from our eyes somewhere beyond the hills of time."

Army Band to Take Part in Silver Trail

Plans for the Citizens' Arena Committee "Silver Trail" on Saturday, when it is hoped that the drive will go over the top, received a boost yesterday with the announcement from the committee that the Esquimalt Fortress Band and a detachment of troops would participate. With the memorial auditorium being dedicated to the members of the armed forces who gave their lives for their country, it is hoped by the committee that all three services will be represented.

In addition the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and the Sea and Air Cadets are expected to take part. The parade will assemble and start from Pioneer Square at 2 o'clock under the direction of Bill Bridgewood, parade marshal.

Nine street corners were chosen for the "Silver Trail" on the following six intersections: Government and Fort, Fort and Douglas; View and Douglas; Yates and Douglas, Johnson and Douglas and Fisgard and Douglas.

Each corner will be in charge of a group from the following organizations: Kiwanis Club, Parent-Teacher Association, Kinsmen Club, Knights of Pythias, Rotary Club, Victoria Committee of the Canadian Youth Commission, Lions Club, Eagles and the Gyro Club.

Taggers will be supplied by the various youth organizations. Mrs. E. Clayton Peters is general convener for the day.

Window displays in connection with the drive are being arranged by local merchants.

With the receipt of several large donations yesterday, officials of the campaign announced that the fund had passed the $56,000 mark.

Large subscriptions received yesterday included: Dart Coon Club, $30; G. H. (Joker) Patton, $50; Yarrows employees, $644; H.M.C.S. Givenchy Canteen, $100; W. Buxton, $50; R. H. B. Ker, $50; Brentwood Auto Court, $25; Empire Stevedoring, $150; Mae Meighen Corset Shop, $50; Royal Canadian Naval College, $25; Victoria West P.-T.A., $25; Tillicum-Craigflower P.-T.A., $10.

Donations may be left at the Citizens' Arena Headquarters, 755 View Street, or at Tommy Tuckers, Yates Street.

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
A P War Analyst

From the Trier anchorage in the Moselle Valley to the Emmerich gateway on the Rhine itself to the Hanoverian Plain there was little to stand against the steadily-mounting power Gen. Eisenhower is bringing into action.

American, British and Canadian troops were too rapidly shredding the last segments of Siegfried Line defences west of the river for doubt that the enemy is pulling back behind the Rhine itself as best he can to escape being trapped with the river at his back.

The only potentially serious natural obstacle on the First Army front guarding Cologne is the Erft River. It is a looping left-bank tributary of the Rhine that rises in the highlands at the north end of the Cologne Plain to empty into the Rhine just north of Dusseldorf. The Erft forms an inner moat for Cologne itself, most of which also lies on the west bank of the Rhine.

The Erft line is distinctly vulnerable, however. A broad sweep of open plain lies north of its eastward bend dotted only by the Gladbach industrial community group of which Odenkirchen is the southern member. Ninth Army advance forces were nearing Odenkirchen as this was written, apparently aiming at slicing in between Gladbach and Dusseldorf. A gap six miles wide exists there and an Allied penetration at that point would outflank the Erft moat even before First Army troops reach in on their direct march on Cologne.

Study Private Bills

Private bills to incorporate the Society of Industrial Accountants and the Fishermen's Mutual Marine Insurance Company were studied yesterday morning by the Legislature's committee on standing orders and private bills.

The Accountants' Bill would set up a society of men engaged in cost accounting, and would provide three grades of membership, general, student and registered. Chief discussion centred about the relation of the proposed new society to the established chartered accountants' organizations.

J. B. Clearihue, K.C., explained the objective was to set up an organization to which a businessman could go to obtain a qualified cost accountant. Norman Terry, Vancouver, president of the new group, said there had been a great demand for cost and industrial accountants since the start of the war and it was difficult to obtain qualified men. The society would train them.

D. G. Macdonald, Victoria, explained the fishermen's insurance proposal was due to rates as high as 10 to 12½ per cent which made it impossible for small boats to take insurance. Actual cost of the insurance, he understood, was 3½ per cent. The plan was backed by the fishermen's co-operatives, he stated. If it had been possible for them to take on an insurance scheme, it would not have been necessary to incorporate a company.

The company would operate, he said, on a strictly mutual basis, with premiums probably being paid through the co-operatives. For a start rates would probably be 3¼ to 4 per cent.

To Pay Off B.C. House Mortgage

British Columbia House in London, for many years a Government and trade channel between the Province, Great Britain and European countries, but since the war occupying an important personal role for British Columbia men overseas as their social centre, this year will become wholly the property of the province. Premier John Hart announced in his Budget speech in the Legislature yesterday that final payment of the mortgage on British Columbia House would be made this year.

The property was purchased in July, 1915, for $291,000. Annual instalments of $21,825 were paid. Final installment of principal this year is $4,825.

"The worth of British Columbia House to this province has proved itself time and time again," Premier Hart said. "The work performed there has covered wide and varied fields, and has been of great value in both the economic and public relations fields."

He paid tribute to W. A. McAdam, Agent-General, his staff and many volunteer workers "who have labored long and arduously, under the most trying conditions, to provide comfort, assistance and some measure of enjoyment to many thousands serving in the forces overseas, whether from British Columbia or other parts of the Dominion."

Early in the war a canteen was established in British Columbia House, and a short time ago officers' club quarters, particularly for convalescents, were added. The highly successful provincial cigarette plan through which millions of "smokes" were sent to British Columbia men from friends and relatives here, centred upon British Columbia House, where stocks were maintained and orders placed here were packed for delivery to individual servicemen.

Given Second Reading

Two bills were given second reading in the Legislature yesterday, the first to advance to that stage during the present sitting.

Hon. R. L. Maitland, Attorney-General, described the first of them as the "equal rights for children act," and said it was a most advanced type of legislation, going "as far as it can possibly go." Purpose of the bill was to protect children where one of the parents, previously married, entered into a second marriage in the belief that the partner of the first marriage was dead, and it was later found the partner was not dead.

The bill provides that children of the persons in the second marriage "shall for all purposes be deemed to be and to have been legitimate from the time of birth." The Attorney-General stated it followed legislation last year to take care of second marriages.

Mr. Maitland explained the second bill provided for persons making a will to notify the director of vital statistics that the will had been made and had been deposited in a certain place. It was a service, the Attorney-General said, to assist in reducing the number of cases of lost wills. It was not mandatory nor bureaucratic, he said.

Escape From Prison

SEATTLE, Feb. 26 (AP).—Six men who slid 11 stories down an elevator shaft to freedom from the King County jail Sunday were still at large tonight, while at least three separate investigations were promised and scores of telephone calls flooded the sheriff's office with fruitless, and in some cases comic, "tips" on whereabouts of the escapees.

ONLY NINE PRISONERS

GUAM, Feb. 27 (Tuesday) (AP).—It's virtually all or nothing on Iwo's crowded eight square miles, where perhaps as many as 40,000 marines are cutting down a Japanese garrison of 20,000. The kind of fighting there was succinctly described in today's communique. It said that in eight days the marines have taken nine prisoners.

To Form Cabinet

CAIRO, Feb. 26 (CP).—Mahmud Fahmy Nekrashi Pasha, former Egyptian Foreign Minister, undertook at King Farook's request the task of forming a new Cabinet today as authorities continued their investigation into the assassination of Premier Ahmed Maher Pasha.

More than 50 persons were arrested.

The majority of the arrests, however, were merely precautionary, police said. The actual assassin was identified as a 26-year-old Egyptian lawyer who was interned early in the war for alleged pro-German activities.

At the Theatres

Noted Dance Team In New Film

Exquisite dancing by Veloz and Yolanda, lilting music and romance are all combined in Republic's "Brazil," which will open today at the Dominion Theatre with Tito Guizar, Virginia Bruce and Robert Livingston starred.

Guizar and Miss Bruce achieve a delightful romance in the story, in which he deceives her into the belief that he is a native guide. In reality, he is the greatest music composer of the country. He guides her amusingly into a romance in which he neatly overcomes the persuasive Mr. Livingston.

The supporting cast includes Robert Livingston, Edward Everett Horton, Richard Lane, Fortunio Bonanova and Roy Rogers, "King of the Cowboys."

Amusements

ON THE SCREEN

Atlas — Barbara Stanwyck and Fred MacMurray in "Double Indemnity."

Cadet—Ida Lupino and Paul Henreid in "In Our Time."

Capital — "Kismet," starring Ronald Colman and Marlene Deitrich.

Dominion—Virginia Bruce in "Brazil."

Oak Bay and Plaza—George Formby in "Bell-Bottom George."

Rio—"They Met in Moscow," starring Vladimir Zeldin.

York—Bob Hope in "Louisiana Purchase."

Russian Musical Comedy at Rio

Most actors are very sensitive about the roles they play. Once they have reached leading man stature they consider it quite a come-down to be cast as "the other man." Not to Nikolai Kriuchkov, who plays a spurned Romeo in the new musical film, "They Met in Moscow," which opens today at the Rio Theatre.

Kriuchkov, who loses lovely Marina Ladynina to tall, dark, handsome Vladimir Zeldin, is not concerned by his apparent fall from grace.

"It is not only the audience that welcomes a little comic relief," says the star. "The actor does, too—even at the cost of losing the gorgeous Marina. I have done many romantic parts, but this is the first time I have had a chance to do comedy."

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES It Serves You Right — You Shouldn't Have Joined," is a clever number in "Bell-Bottom George," now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, which George Formby certainly puts over with gusto. Needless to say, Formby's uke plays a big part in making the musical score for "Bell-Bottom George" a ringing success.

CAPITOL THEATRE At last the world-renowned story of "Kismet" has achieved its fullest glory. The famous Edward Knoblock play has been brought to the screen in glorious Technicolor and with an outstanding cast by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, headed by Marlene Dietrich and Ronald Colman, is now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

CADET THEATRE Ida Lupino and Paul Henreid are co-starred in Warner Bros. "In Our Time" at the Cadet Theatre. Ida Lupino plays an English girl who falls in love with Paul Henreid, a Polish count in Warsaw just before the war starts. Nancy Coleman and Mary Boland head the supporting cast.

ATLAS THEATRE A trio of Hollywood's top players, Barbara Stanwyck, Fred MacMurray and Edward G. Robinson, appear together in Paramount's "Double Indemnity," now showing at the Atlas Theatre. The picture is a stark drama of love and murder which builds suspense with each passing moment right up to the devastating climax.

YORK THEATRE "Louisiana Purchase," adapted to the screen from the successful Broadway music show depicts Bob Hope as a political novice, Vera Zorina as the beauty who helps to dance him out of his troubles, and Victor Moore as the crusading comic investigator. The spectacular film now showing at the York Theatre, puts on in brilliant Technicolor such festivities as the Mardi Gras and the Beaux Arts Ball.

Program Announced For Kipnis Concert

A delightful program has been selected by Alexander Kipnis, leading bass-baritone of the Metropolitan Opera, when he appears at the Royal Victoria Theatre at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow. The list, to which many extras will be added, is as follows:

Catalogue Aria from "Don Giovanni" (Mozart).

"Gute Nacht," "Fischerweise," "Der Wanderer," "Der Erlkonig" (Schubert).

Aria, "Il lacerato spirito" from "Simon Boccanegra" (Verdi); waltz scene from "Der Rosenkavalier" (Strauss).

"O Mistress Mine" (Quilter); "I'll Hail Upon the Dog Star" (Purcell); "River of Freedom" (Michelet); "Little Jack Horner" (with apologies to Handel) (Diack).

"The Pilgrim" (Tschaikowsky); "As the King Went Forth to War" (Koeneman); death scene from "Boris Godounoff" (Moussorgsky).

Red Cross Chairman Describes Pressing Need for Supplies

The weekly meeting of the Gyro Club was featured yesterday by an address delivered by Jackson Dodds, C.B.E., chairman of the Canadian Red Cross Central Committee. Mr Dodds, who was until his retirement general manager of the Bank of Montreal, chose as his subject "The Red Cross and the Future."

"We have reached a point in our social consciousness when the old cry, 'Am I my brother's keeper?' must get an affirmative answer," he declared.

[illegible] ple of England, Mr Dodds said. "It is to the eternal credit of you people of Canada that supplies were on hand when they were so sorely needed. People who lived many of their hours in the dank gloom of those early underground shelters treasured the warmth and comfort and brightness of the Red Cross blankets they slept under. Fifty thousand warm quilts went recently to the brave ruins of Dover, the city that refused to die, whose spirit was stronger than the crushing might of Nazi Germany," he recalled.

"After a falsely optimistic interval, robot bombs again multiplied the overseas work of the Canadian Red Cross, which from the very first undertook to supply clothing needed by the victims of the flying bombs. We Canadians have every right to feel proud and grateful that the British people have turned to us in their darkest hour. We, who are 'at' war, but not 'in' war, have much to be thankful for," he asserted.

"Now, with the liberation of our Allied Nations, the need for supplies of clothing and surgical dressings skyrockets. We have, in our hands, the means to save these innocent victims of the war. We are coming [illegible] dian Red Cross," Mr. Dodds stated.

"When you are asked to give, do not hold back, think of our own children in Canada, rosy-cheeked, straight-backed, full of life, and merry. In the liberated countries the young are old in heart, because they have looked too often on death, and they have known cold and hunger always. We cannot trade places with them, but we can stretch out a helping hand," he said.

"Gifts given freely are truly blessed, and bless the giver in equal measure with the receiver. This is a year of great responsibilities in Canadian Red Cross. Let them meet these responsibilities with great generosity," Mr. Dodds concluded.

Mr. Dodds was introduced by Frank Paulding, an official of the local campaign. Allan Pendray, president of the Gyro Club, was chairman. Before Mr. Dodds began his address, a number of members of the Victoria French-Canadian Club joined the gathering.

War Veterans Greet Native Land

"Canada at last!" exclaim the three Canadians shown above as they gaze out over the rail of the hospital ship Lady Nelson at the Halifax shoreline. They are, left to right: Spr. Nick Kurulok, Prince Rupert; L.-Cpl. A. R. Harrison, Victoria, and Spr. S. A. Bailey, Chilliwack.

City and District

Wants Tree Removed—A Unwin, 1840 Crescent Road, wrote to the City Hall yesterday requesting removal of an oak tree adjacent to his garden on Irving Road.

Windows Broken—Windows were broken during the week-end on the premises of Thomas Plimley, Ltd., 871 Yates Street; E. B Horsman & Sons, Ltd., 949 Yates Street, and the Christian Alliance Tabernacle, Yates Street, city police were informed.

Two Fires—A fire in a home at 1347 Pembroke Street on Sunday morning, caused by hot ashes, according to a fire department report, did slight damage. On Sunday evening firemen were called to a chimney fire in the Department of Transport Building on Wharf Street.

Tuna Cannery—Announcement was made yesterday by British Columbia Packers, Ltd., that the company has been licensed by the Provincial Fisheries Department to operate a tuna cannery for the 1945-1946 season. The company, however, does not anticipate commercial tuna canning this season because of price ceilings.

Invite Mayor—A request for Mayor Percy E George to be election chairman at the April 5 session of the British Columbia Parent-Teacher Federation at Vancouver was received by him yesterday together with an invitation for him and Mrs. George to attend a banquet that night. The mayor, 1944 first vice-president of the federation, declined to run for president.

Seek Accommodation—The Council of Social Agencies yesterday requested the use of any or all rooms at Sunshine Inn, Pandora Avenue, now used as Civil Defence headquarters, for a club for senior citizens. The Council of Social Agencies said it understood that occupation of the city-owned building by the Civil Defence organization would be ended shortly. A servicemen's Christian association also made a bid for use of the building recently.

Cemetery Trustees—F C. Oldfield was re-elected for the 14th consecutive term as chairman of the board of cemetery trustees of Greater Victoria, at the board's first 1945 meeting last week. Other officers elected were: Alderman J. A. Worthington, vice-chairman, H. A. C. Dewar, Alderman Edward Williams and Councillor J. Oliver, finance committee, Mr. Oldfield, Alderman Worthington and Councillor George Austin, buildings and grounds committee.

Seek Opinion On Japanese

Recommendation to Ottawa that a referendum be held at the time of the next Federal election to discover the people's desires on postwar policy toward Japanese in Canada will be made by the City Council, it was decided yesterday. The action arose from discussion on a resolution of the Kelowna Board of Trade urging removal of all Japanese from Canada.

Alderman F. A. Willis, moving for the referendum, proposed a choice of three policies: Return of all persons of Japanese origin to Japan; repatriation of those born in Japan only; or allowing all to stay here who wished to do so. He suggested that either a Dominion-wide or a provincial referendum could be held.

Besides sending copies of the resolution to R W. Mayhew, M.P., to Ottawa and to the Kelowna Board of Trade, the City Council decided to send it also to all British Columbia municipalities for endorsation.

Opening discussion on the Kelowna resolution, Alderman J. A. Worthington said the decision of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at its 1944 convention at Nelson had been that the question was a Dominion matter. Alderman Burges J. Gadsden stated he was opposed to allowing Japanese to remain in Canada who did not renounce loyalty to Japan, but added that those who renounced Japanese citizenship should be entitled to become Canadian citizens.

SEEK INFORMATION ON EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE

Another matter for the attention of Mr Mayhew was a letter of Mayor Percy E George, approved by the City Council, asking Mr. Mayhew to find out the Federal Government's policy on aid to municipalities in postwar rehabilitation of servicemen and war workers.

A local question was decided when the council approved a recommendation of its public works committee that Crescent Shows Ltd., be allowed to present a two-week show here on four conditions: That the part of Blanshard Street where the show will be held is kept open to traffic; that sanitary facilities be provided; that the company deposit a $500 bond with the city to be forfeited if the site is not cleaned up after the show, and that the company undertake an indemnity of $5,000 to $10,000 in case of accident. A licence fee will be charged on the same basis as last year when the city received $230.

Aldermen F G Mulliner and Harold M Diggon voted against permission being given.

Budget Debate Today

H E Winch, leader of the CCF Opposition, today will open debate on the budget. He adjourned the debate yesterday after Premier John Hart in his capacity of Minister of Finance had given his budget address and had presented the formal motion for the House to go into committee of supply.

Previous to speaking, the Premier presented estimates for the coming year, supplementary estimates for the current year, and the report of the comptroller-general for the nine months ending December 31.

Paton Sentenced In Police Court

After outlining why he put more credence in the evidence of Constables Carl Carlson and Raymond Maitland than in that of Melvin Paton, Leonte Gordienko and Mrs. Gordienko, Magistrate H C Hall yesterday found Paton guilty of assaulting Constable Carlson on the morning of January 1 and sentenced him to two months in prison at hard labor. Paton indicated he would appeal the conviction.

C I Harrison, city prosecutor, applied for withdrawal of a second charge against Paton, of assaulting Constable Maitland. The application was granted.

Gordienko, who was charged jointly with Paton, was remanded for a week when Lt. J A McCutcheon informed the court the accused had been admitted to naval hospital on Friday for seven days.

In rendering judgment in Paton's case Magistrate Hall said evidence showed that witnesses for either the prosecution or the defence must be lying. Paton was the type of man who would join a fight in which a friend was involved, the magistrate said.

The magistrate was not prepared to accept Paton's explanation of how his face was battered when he was apprehended. Paton had said he was in a fight with another sailor before the alleged fight with the constables on Pandora Avenue. There must have been at least one other man fighting beside Gordienko, the magistrate added. He questioned the value of the Gordienko evidence that Paton did not take part. Striking a constable was a serious offence, but it was even more serious to hit a man from the rear, the magistrate concluded.

TO PRESENT PICTURES

Colored motion pictures of England will be shown by H J Pendray during a meeting of the Overseas League in the Y W C A at 2 o'clock next Monday evening.

City Police Court

Allen Leo Cross, a young merchant seaman, charged in city police court yesterday with theft of the motorboat Manila owned by George Nelson, a bicycle belonging to James Ramsay and a storage battery owned by J. Ford, was remanded by Magistrate H. C. Hall until Thursday.

He was transferred from juvenile court to the city court to face the three charges, the first two of which involve thefts of goods worth more than $25. The boat, stolen from Selkirk Water, was recovered at Cordova Bay.

The magistrate said that in view of the youth of the accused he would give him opportunity to secure counsel before making a plea.

Pte Violet Marshall, CWAC driver of a jeep that went out of control recently on Bay Street, was remanded a week on a dangerous driving charge.

A charge against George Geoghegan, of assault occasioning actual bodily harm, was dismissed when the court was informed that the soldier bringing the charge could not positively identify Geoghegan as his assailant.

Two men were each fined $25 on charges of intoxication. Three motorists were each fined $15 for speeding, one was fined $5 for not having a driver's licence, and seven paid each $2.50 parking fines.

ISLAND PROPERTY SALES

W S P Alexander, of Vancouver, has purchased from W A McAfee three lots on the Ganges subdivision where he intends to build a dwelling and drug store. J F J Deacon has purchased from Gavin C Mouat a lot adjoining his present holding at Vesuvius Bay.

War Veterans Hold Reunion

The newly-formed Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry Regimental Association met last night in the clubrooms of Britannia Branch Canadian Legion, with Colonel Macgregor Macintosh presiding. An address by Captain C. F. Lawrence highlighted the meeting. Captain Lawrence, recently returned from overseas, described movements of the regiment from the Sicily landing to the Italian campaign.

"The proud tradition set by you last-war men has not been let down by the present-day Pats," he declared. "The Second Canadian Brigade, of which we are a member, has covered itself with glory, and for a man to say 'I was with the Pats' remains an endorsation wherever fighting men assemble."

The election of officers was tabled for a future meeting, as the candidates for the presidency withdrew, one after another, on the grounds of inability to give full time to the position.

Colonel Macintosh and his pro tem committee turned over the business of the election to Major-General R F Keller, C B E., who approved a motion that the temporary committee continue in office until March 17, when another meeting will be held.

Major-General Keller, a former commanding officer of the P P C L I., is still receiving treatment at the Royal Jubilee Hospital for leg and arm wounds received during the French campaign. He wears the powder blue patches of the Third Canadian Division, which spearheaded the invasion as an integral part of the 21st Army Group under Field Marshal Montgomery.

A large number of veterans of the Great War were present at the meeting.

SOCIETIES TO GATHER

Members of the Kipling Society will meet in Room 301, Union Building, at 8 o'clock tonight. Entertainment will be provided a delegation from the Dickens Fellowship.

Film Shows Japan

A documentary film, "Fortress Japan," is now being shown to industrial plants in the Victoria area by C. W. Marshall, field representative of the National Film Board. The film depicts Japan with her millions of Emperor-worshipping fanatics, inaccessible coast line, slave labor and large stocks of looted war materials, and illustrates what a formidable fortress the Allies will have to assault, Mr Marshall explained yesterday.

"Welcome Soldier," a picture produced by the National Film Board, presents an analysis of Canada's rehabilitation scheme. The picture points out that 60 different courses of vocational training are available to veterans, along with financial grants to assist them while learning. Special showing of this film can be arranged through the Victoria office of the National Film Board.

Urge Support Of Sawmills

Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island protested the closing down of small mills in a resolution presented by William E. Fraser, of the Malahat Board of Trade, before the British Columbia Forest Inquiry yesterday.

It was also asked that small operations adjacent to available timber be encouraged and that efficiency be secondary to the encouragement of the balanced economic life throughout the province.

The decision to appear before the Royal Commissioner, Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, and lodge the protest and recommendations, was reached at the annual convention of the Boards of Trade.

The Government was petitioned in a resolution from the Duncan Chamber of Commerce, adopted by the convention, to study in its consideration of the findings of the commission not only the interest of the logging and lumber industry, but those of the ordinary resident, farmer, small businessman, the professional and working classes and tourists and those who cater to them. This resolution was presented to the forest inquiry by Captain J. D Groves, of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce.

"Large areas of the most beautiful portions of the Island are being gradually denuded of the forests, and turned into desolate and ugly wastes, with a consequent deterioration of all wild life, game and fish and also a loss in revenue to the province," the resolution read. It was pointed out that the southern portion of Vancouver Island has been famous as a beauty spot and the influx of tourists has gradually built up to an increasingly important industry.

WITNESS ADVOCATES HARDWOOD TREES

Planting of hardwood trees in addition to conifers would enhance the beauty of the Island and greatly improve its sporting attributes, Captain Groves said. Beech, European oak, Texas oak, elm, ash, black walnut, butternut, hazelnut, Spanish chestnut and horse chestnut were advocated as beautiful, also valuable as timber and providing a bountiful supply of food for all types of game.

Setting aside of land to perpetuate the hardwood industry at least at its present level was advocated by A M Lambert, of New Westminster. His brother, W G Lambert, testified on the use of slabs and edging for the manufacture of handles for brooms and other implements. Possibility of the returned soldier establishing a farm complemented by a hardwood plot which could be operated on an annual basis of profit through a contract with a lumber operator was also voiced by A M Lambert.

Sustained yield of forests is of more interest to the manufacturer with a large investment than to a man whose operation is more flexible and can be moved, E L Robson, of the Robson Logging Co. Ltd., Duncan, testified.

Need of an increased staff of trained men was admitted by C C Turner, assistant district forester of the Vancouver forest district. Prof G F Drummond of the University of British Columbia presented a brief on foreign exchange.

Blesses Chapel Altar

A chapel on grounds of the old Royal Naval Cemetery, near H M C S Naden, consecrated in July, 1868, has been reopened and will be used once more for marriages, christenings and Evensong every Sunday.

The chapel, which fell into disrepair, has been renovated. There are new furnishings in the building and ships' lanterns with candles have been placed around the walls.

The altar, lamps and font of the chapel were blessed at a Sunday afternoon ceremony by Bishop Harold E Sexton.

Included among the 30 persons who attended the ceremony were Captain P B German, R C N., N O I C Esquimalt, and Mrs German, Rev. John Furness, senior Protestant chaplain, West Coast, Rev. O E Heywood, Rev. G M Wareham and Rev. O P Hosale.

Publicity Bureau Activities Outlined at Annual Meeting

All nine members of the board of directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau were re-elected at the annual meeting in Spencer's dining-room yesterday. They were Aldermen W. H. Davies, T. W. Hawkins and E. Williams, representing the City Council, and [illegible] Clark, E. N. Horsey, Harold Husband, Capt. R. W. McMurray, G. H. Stevens and Harold J. Wilson. Directors will elect a chairman at a later meeting.

Directors' report for 1944 was read by George I. Warren, commissioner. He outlined work of the bureau during the past year and told of efforts to keep the organization in a position to resume active work in publicizing the city and district as soon as hostilities cease. During the war years, activities of the bureau were considerably curtailed.

He also stated that the bureau had endorsed efforts of R. W. Mayhew, M.P., to secure an airport for the district, improve the harbor facilities and to connect the Gorge with Esquimalt Harbor by a canal. Action of the City Council in successfully negotiating an agreement with the Canadian Pacific Railway in regard to the taxation of the Empress Hotel was approved. This assured continued operation of the Crystal Garden, he said.

Approval of the proposal of the Real Estate Board for a scenic drive around the Saanich Peninsula was given, and the directors petitioned the Provincial Government to continue operation of the Mill Bay Ferry.

Embodied in the directors report was an account of the meeting of the Canadian Tourist Advisory Board in Windsor, which was attended by Mr. Warren. As a result of this meeting, presided over by Hon R. L. LaFleche, Minister of National Services, a resolution was sent to the Federal Government recommending that the tourist trade be considered a basic industry in the rehabilitation of veterans. Also requested from the Government were funds to operate the Canadian Travel Bureau and extension of the National Parks of Canada.

BUREAU FINANCIAL REPORT PRESENTED

Financial report of the bureau showed receipts of $10,854.40 for 1944, made up as follows: City of Victoria, $7,500, Oak Bay municipality, $500, subscriptions, $2,845.75, and bank interest, $8.65. Expenses for the year were $9,214.90, of which $4,267.24 went directly into money spent for publicity. Largest single expenditure for publicity was $1,445.79 for the renewing of billboards on the highways of Canada and the United States, which had been neglected since the start of the war.

An increase of approximately 50 per cent in the number of cars entering Victoria with visitors was noted. A summary showed that 8,270 cars visited Victoria in 1944, compared with 4,239 in 1943. Of these, 4,759 were from the United States, an increase of more than 50 per cent over the previous year.

Forty-four of the 48 states were represented in the breakdown of the figures with the largest number from the State of Washington, which had 3,989 cars. North Carolina, Maine, Maryland and West Virginia were the only states not represented.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was George Melrose, assistant chief forester for British Columbia. Mr Melrose gave a brief talk on the recreational value of the forests and the preservation of wild life in park areas. He displayed a map of the master plan of parks in the province, including proposed new parks, and explained the method of peace planning and surveying an area to formulate a basic plan for the development of a park.

The speaker gave a report on booklets and information put out by his department in order to publicize the parks, and stressed the value of the necessary work in connection with the park areas in providing considerable employment after the war.

Mayor Percy E. George, in a brief talk, assured the bureau of his co-operation in the publicizing of the tourist attractions of Victoria and the Island, feeling that after the war Victoria would have to depend more on the travel industry than ever before.

E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, extended the greetings of the Government [illegible] efforts and spirit of co-operation.

Popular Concert Held

Holiday for Strings, arranged by P.O. A. Lockie, was one of the highlights of the Sunday evening concert presented by the Royal Canadian Navy Band at the Royal Victoria Theatre before a capacity audience of servicemen and women and their guests.

Under the direction of W.O. Stanley Sunderland, R.C.N.V.R., the band gave a program of highly-polished timbre from the initial Sousa march, "United States Field Artillery," to the amusing novelty number, "Circus Parade." Especially well received were "A Hunting Scene," notable for its novel sound effects, and Bela's "Hungarian Comedy."

Special guests were Capt. P. Barry German, N.O.I.C., and Mrs. German, Cmdr. T. G. Fuller, commanding officer H.M.C.S. Naden, Capt. and Mrs. T. H. Evans and Cmdr. T. Fyfe.

The Burrard Male Voice Choir will be featured at the next concert on March 11. The final presentation of the season will be given March 25.

LOANS $20 TO $1,000
AT NEW REDUCED RATE
$50 loan repaid in 4 monthly payments costs $1.89
$100 loan repaid in 6 monthly payments costs $5.32
No other charge—No endorsers needed

AGAIN Household Finance has reduced the cost of borrowing. Now Household's charge for any loan is only $1\frac{1}{2}$% per month on the unpaid balance. Now monthly instalments of only $7.49 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in 15 months. Notice also that you may take up to 20 months to repay the larger loans.

All you do

To apply for a Household Finance loan—any amount from $20 to $1,000—you merely give us a little information about yourself and your work and choose a convenient payment plan. Household loans are really confidential. No endorsers or guarantors are ever needed. And we do not question friends or relatives about your credit. Moreover, the simple arrangements for your loan can usually be completed the same day you apply. Household service is both private and fast.

With Household's reduction in rate have come reduced monthly payments. (See table below). Notice also that the sooner you repay the less your loan costs. A $100 loan repaid in six monthly instalments costs $5.32. Repaid in four monthly instalments a $100 loan costs only $3.78.

Larger loans repaid in a few months also cost surprisingly little. Examples: $300 loan, repaid in 4 monthly instalments, costs $11.33, a $500 4-payment loan costs $15.07, a $750 3-payment loan $22.61, a $1,000 4-payment loan only $37.78. Compare these costs with charges elsewhere!

Payments shown in the table repay principal and charges. Our one rate of charge includes all costs. You pay no discounts, fines or service charge, no hidden charges or extras of any kind.

Get cash to solve your problem

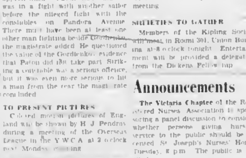

You may borrow at Household to pay old bills, your doctor or dentist, make repairs, finance your business, help relatives—for almost any purpose. If you need money, phone, write or visit Household Finance today.

Men of the armed forces stop at interesting places, see odd sights and a lot of strange faces. Many go in for seeing the sights, while others attracted by the old movie lights. For example a soldier was asked, if he'd seen those dames that went about masked. He replied in Damascus one rainy day he'd seen Mickey Rooney in "Babes on Broadway."

SEALED Tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Veterans' Hospital, Victoria, B.C.," will be received until 6 p.m. (E.D.S.T.), Monday, March 12, 1945, for the construction of a Veterans' Hospital at Victoria, B.C.

Plans and specification can be seen and forms of tender obtained at the offices of the Chief Architect, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, the District Resident Architect, Post Office Building, Victoria, B.C., and Mercer & Mercer, Architects, 615 West Hastings Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with the conditions set forth therein.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, or Bearer Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies, unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque if required to make up an odd amount.

Note — The Department, through the Chief Architect's office and the offices of the Resident Architect at Victoria, B.C., and Mercer & Mercer, Architects, Vancouver, B.C., will supply blue-prints and specification of the work on deposit of a sum of $150.00 in the form of a certified bank cheque payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works. The deposit will be released on return of the blue-prints and specification within a month from the date of reception of tenders. If not returned within that period the deposit will be forfeited.

"Pressure Lobby" Seeking Action

While officers of the British Columbia Federation of Labor and the Victoria Trades and Labor Council were meeting Premier John Hart and Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, yesterday, one of the largest labor lobbies to date "buttonholed" members of the Legislature. They were applying their "pressure lobby" in a drive to obtain action on a succession of briefs presented in recent weeks to the Cabinet by various groups.

Meanwhile the Premier and other ministers and members were flooded with telegrams.

Throughout the morning labor delegates from all over the province thronged to the halls of the Legislative Buildings, and every member of the Legislature who appeared was the lobbyists. Even some individuals who were not members of the Assembly were "buttonholed" as eager lobbyists sought to marshal strength by contacting anyone who looked as if he might be a member.

Chief objectives of the lobby are: Union security, including dues check-off; health insurance, Compensation Act amendments, emphasizing the inclusion of hernia; Hours of Work Act and Female Minimum Wage Act amendments; improved old age pensions, and education improvements.

Meeting Premier Hart and Mr. Pearson were Daniel O'Brien, president; Harvey Murphy, vice-president, and Harold Pritchett, secretary, B.C. Federation of Labor, all Vancouver, and George A. Wilkinson, secretary, Victoria Trades and Labor Council.

The officers also planned to meet various groups in the Legislature.

Up to noon the "pressure lobby" consisted of 184 labor representatives, the starting group of 174 having been swelled by arrival of additional delegates in the late morning. Other arrived later.

Government supporters were called into caucus after yesterday's sitting to consider the "pressure lobby."

CASE INVOLVES LIQUOR

At a special session of the Provincial Police Court yesterday morning, a man was fined $50 and $2.50 costs, with an alternative of 30 days in jail, for supplying liquor to an Indian. The Indian was given a suspended sentence on a charge of being in possession of liquor, and was ordered to pay $2.50 costs.

The Polish, Czech and German boundaries came together in the Silesian uplands.

Organize Search For Deserters

Victoria city police, members of the R.C.M.P., and service policemen are organizing a joint search here for army deserters, Chief J. A. McLellan revealed yesterday. Inspector R. C. Bowen, chief of the Vancouver Island detachment of the R.C.M.P., said the search would cover Greater Victoria, and mentioned that the rest of the Island had already been covered.

A similar drive commenced last week in Vancouver.

Chief McLellan urged all citizens to be sure they were carrying their registration certificates, adding that anyone found without his certificate was liable to a charge under Federal regulations. By carrying certificates, citizens would save themselves embarassment and facilitate the work of the police, he explained.

Council Accepts School Budget

Estimated expenditures of $38,500.50 by the Board of School Trustees for the current year were accepted by Esquimalt Council at a meeting in the municipal hall last night.

The budget showed an increase of approximately $1,500, G. H. Pullen, municipal clerk, pointed out. Salary increases and cost-of-living adjustments were factors in the increase.

Permission was granted to the Citizens' Arena Committee to hold a tag day on Saturday, March 3, and Reeve T. Hadfield will contact the committee to assure all possible co-operation.

A sewer assessment roll with revenue of $10,099.13 was reported by the municipal engineer and adopted by the council. This is an increase of $389.99 for the current year over 1944.

Value of the auxiliary fire department to the community and the necessity of encouragement by the council was stressed by Councillor G. R. Guillemaud during the reading of a letter from the department outlining equipment and repairs needed if practices are to continue. The report was tabled and action will be taken after the Dominion Government's policy is ascertained.

A motion to amend the roads and traffic by-law making that part of Craigflower Road within the township an arterial highway was carried. Only a section of this road had been considered an arterial highway, and the extension followed a recommendation of the chief constable to allow proper distribution of stop signs.

A motion from the Kelowna Board of Trade asking the repatriation of all Japanese was unanimously endorsed and will be forwarded to Premier John Hart.

Authorization to complete work on a footpath from Esquimalt Road to the Roman Catholic Church at a cost of $295 was given the municipal engineer.

A resolution to introduce the reeve and councillors' indemnity by-law at the next meeting carried. Offers totalling $610 for three lots were accepted.

Outlines Plan For Veterans

A concrete plan whereby the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council of Victoria could greatly assist in the re-establishment and rehabilitation of returning servicemen was outlined by James Moreton at the annual meeting last night in the City Hall.

First step in the scheme, Mr. Moreton explained, was the acquisition of a list of all organizations in the city, and the procurement of a representative of each for the citizens' council. The establishment of a reception committee would be necessary, he continued, whose responsibility it would be to secure a complete list of all returning servicemen. In this way, no man would be overlooked. The reception committee would be in charge of arranging suitable social affairs at which the returning men could meet friends and make new ones.

This would not stop at that point, the speaker added. Clubs and other organizations would be responsible for the placement of the men in suitable employment.

Such a scheme was already in effect in Saskatoon and other cities, he said. Emphasis was put on the fact that it would be the responsibility of the community itself, rather than Government branches, to do the most for the men as far as this service was concerned.

Mr. Moreton reported on a conference of several hundred delegates of rehabilitation councils across Canada, who met for four days last month near Ottawa. Hundreds of relative problems had been discussed at the parley.

There was no greater cause for discontent among servicemen, he claimed, than the lack of proper housing accommodation.

SUGGESTS TEMPORARY HOUSES FOR VETERANS

He explained that in Winnipeg temporary pre-fabricated houses were being built for returning men at a cost of no more than $650. He suggested that something similar be started here. In a discussion period which followed the address, the suggestion was opposed by several persons.

Delegates at the Ottawa conference, Mr. Moreton added, had been against seeking financial support from the Dominion Government. It was the responsibility of the city and its people to re-establish the veterans. Dealing with business reconstruction of the country, he said the council had nothing to do with that branch of the postwar planning.

The establishment of a committee [illegible] University of British Columbia, in connection with courses for returning men, was suggested by the speaker.

Forrest L. Shaw was unanimously elected chairman of the council and Fraser McConnell was named vice-chairman at the election which followed. Executive members named were F. E. Winslow, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., Mrs. A. Sprgin, R. F. Williams, Maj. C. Fallas, R. W. Phipps, J. Moreton and A. Palmer. C. F. Colville was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

A warning to all servicemen to be cautious of racketeers, who were after the veterans' gratuities and other service payments, was issued by the council. Representatives of several veterans' organizations and other related groups attended the meeting. Financial and committee reports were presented.

Two New Vessels To Serve Coast

Official announcement that the Canadian Pacific Railway is planning to add two new trans-Pacific liners to the Orient service was made yesterday by W. M. Neal, first vice-president of the company, during an interview at the Empress Hotel.

The ships will be modeled on the familiar Duchess type which have been on the Atlantic service since 1929. They are 600 feet long and of 20,000 tons displacement. The proposed ships will be slightly larger and faster and will compose, with the Empress of Japan, a 26,000-ton vessel, the nucleus of the C.P.R. Pacific fleet. The old Empress of Russia is due for retirement, Mr. Neal inferred.

"We are definitely planning ships to replace those lost in the war, but it is all in the provisional stage at present," he declared.

"Freight rates are about the only thing I can think of that have not shown an increase since 1922, and British Columbians may expect an increase in the near future. The only thing that has been saving the railways during the war," he said, "is the high volume of traffic. Canada needs an efficient transport system, and the system cannot be efficient unless it is healthy financially. I am not making a definite statement on freight rates at this time, but rising costs may well force such a measure.

"All parts of Canada should get together to bring up the export trade, rather than squabbling over a limited amount of domestic business. Competition is keen for export trade at present, and it is going to be keen in the future," he asserted.

Mr. Neal, who is accompanied by W. A. Mather, vice-president in charge of Western services, and F. W. Alexander, assistant chief engineer, described his trip as "purely a routine affair." Mr. Neal's travels take him 35,000 miles a year. He will leave for Vancouver and the East tomorrow. Although a Westerner of many years' standing, Mr. Neal now makes his home at Montreal.

Newest Canadian Station Opened

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 (CP).—Canada has entered the "world radio arena," to use the words of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, with the official inaugural mission of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's new international service over its powerful, 50-kilowatt short-wave [illegible] Sunday.

Canada officially went on the air to the world at 2 p.m., C.D.T., with the announcement from CHTA—the station's call letters—that "This is Canada calling."

In an hour-long program that followed, and directed principally to Canadian forces overseas, greetings were extended in English by Mr. King and in French by Justice Minister St. Laurent. From London, there was a brief message by Chairman Howard B. Chase, of the C.B.C. board of governors. The program also was carried over the C.B.C. Trans-Canada Network.

There was something of interest from almost every part of Canada for listeners overseas. From Toronto, the C.B.C. chorus and orchestra presented a new marching song, "On Our Way," particularly for the Canadian Army overseas. Winnipeg contributed "The Red River Barn Dance." There was music from the Pacific Coast.

Station CHTA has been in experimental operation for two months feeding a new high-gain directional antenna of a type never before used on this continent. Reports from Europe agree, C.B.C. spokesman said, that signals from the new Canadian transmitters are the strongest being received from North America. Studio's headquarters are located in Montreal.

The present program arrangements are designed primarily to supply Canadian news and entertainment to Canadian troops in the European area. In addition, there is a daily half-hour program to people in France, 15 minutes daily in German and 15 minutes daily to European Allies. A special section now is being organized to plan special programs for United Kingdom listeners.

Accused Remanded

Trial of Louis R. Dafoe and William F. Sinclair, of Vancouver, on charges of having in their possession liquor permits not lawfully issued to them, and possession of blank registration card forms, was adjourned for one week at the request of G. H. Sedger, prosecutor, in Esquimalt Police Court yesterday afternoon.

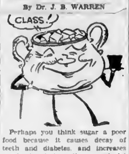

Through his counsel, Joseph McKenna, Dafoe changed his plea to [illegible] having liquor in his car. Trial on the charge was also remanded for one week.

Request for particulars of a charge against Sinclair of purchasing liquor under a false name was made by Mr. McKenna, and a remand of one week was granted.

Five motorists were each assessed $10 fines for exceeding the speed limit in a school zone, two were each fined $5 for failing to halt at a stop sign, and a $2.50 fine was levied against a motorist on a parking charge.

Sugar Is a Wonderful Food

By Dr. J. B. WARREN

Perhaps you think sugar a poor food because it causes decay of teeth and diabetes, and increases weight, but it is really a wonderful food. It is cheap, clean, white, can be carried on your person, never perishes or grows impure. It is unadulterated, very pleasant to taste, free from germs, highly nutritious. It is completely soluble in water, tea or other liquid. It is completely digestible, requires no cooking, and there is not one particle or waste after it is eaten.

Released by Consolidated News Features, Inc.

According to Culbertson

The proper response to an opening two no-trump bid depends to a considerable extent on the "bidding style" of the player who made the opening bid. For example:

South, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable

♠ 9 7 3
♥ J 7 6 5 4 2
♣ A Q

WEST
♠ A 10 8 5
♥ 10
♦ J 4 3
♣ 8 7 4 3 2

EAST
♠ J 6 2
♥ A K 0 3
♣ J 6 6 5

SOUTH
♠ K Q 4
♥ Q 8
♦ A K Q 10 8 5
♣ K 10

When this deal occurred in a high stake game at a prominent club, South chose to open the bidding with two no trump instead of one diamond. Certainly there was much to be said for this choice. Assuming that the diamond suit could be run without loss—a reasonable assumption—South figured to take seven or eight tricks with very little assistance from his partner. If South started with a diamond and North responded with a no-trump, it would be far less favorable to have the opening lead made through the South hand—perhaps through the club king. Thus, while some experts frown on opening two no-trumps that are based largely on a long minor suit, it would be captious indeed to criticize South's selection.

West naturally passed to two no-trump, North bid three hearts, East passed, and South then bid three no-trump. When this came around to North, he promptly bid four hearts—and that was the end in more ways than one! East opened a diamond, and eventually the defence took three hearts and one spade.

Now to comment on North's bidding. With a partner who reserved the two no-trump opening for a well-balanced, very strong hand, the four heart bid would be quite in order, but according to North's own admission he knew that South made a practice of bidding two no-trump on hands such as this. Therefore it would have been a great deal shrewder for North to pass and accept the three no-trump contract.
